EDC Backers Waging Battle To Save Army

Want Postponement Of Debate To Aid More Negotiations

PARIS, Aug. 27 (AP)—A group of staunch supporters of EDC tonight waged a behind the scenes battle to save the European army from what they consider almost certain death in the French National Assembly.

They were striving to force a short postponement in the long delayed debate to permit further negotiations for changes in the European Defense Community treaty.

After a four-hour Cabinet meeting this afternoon, Premier Pierre Mendes-France told reporters the discussion would start tomorrow as scheduled. But highly placed informants later disclosed the government might be willing to accept a delay.

Maneuver For Time

Former Premiers Rene Mayer, Paul Reynaud and Robert Schuman are among the group maneuvering for more time and modifications in the treaty to woo supporters.

After two days of rushing from one meeting to another, they drew up a resolution this afternoon calling for new negotiations before Sept. 15 and adjournment of the debate until talks with the other five EDC partners are concluded.

The changes which are outlined in the resolution are much milder in tone and substance than those presented — and rejected — at the Brussels conference. Faced with a new negotiation and a new possibility for saving EDC, the other five nations—Germany, Italy, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg—might feel they could accept the changes outlined in this resolution.

Objections Are Made

The objections which the other five nations made to Mendes-France's proposals were:

They watered down the supranational characteristics of the treaty; they discriminated against Germany; many would require reratification by the national parliaments of the countries which had already ratified.

The resolution prepared today by the pro-EDC group seemed to avoid these criticisms.

Search Spreads For Terror Gang

CHICAGO, Aug. 27 (AP)—Federal, city, county and military authorities today began a widespread search for young hoodlums wearing markings of the blood-oath hoodlum terrorist society Pachuco.

The sweeping investigation covering the Chicago area got under way after the seizure of three men wearing the tell-tale Pachuco symbol—a small radiant cross, usually on the web of skin between the thumb and forefinger.

The three, seized in separate incidents, denied membership in the organization.

One, Pvt. Arthur Tiffany, 18, on leave from Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo., was found to have the tattoo on his left hand. He and four other youths were detained without charge in connection with strong-arm robberies. A similar mark was found on the right hand of Richard Warren, 19, seized when police broke up a gathering of some 150 teen-agers. A third tattoo was found on the forearm of Rex Orton, 26, seized for questioning in a robbery. All are from Chicago.

Guy Banister, FBI agent-in-charge in Chicago, sent agents to aid authorities at Ft. Sherican and Great Lakes Naval Training Center as Pachuco investigations opened there.

World Churches Chart Program To Aid Mankind

EVANSTON, Ill., Aug. 27 (AP) — An alliance of the world's Christians today charted a broad program to bring mankind "into captivity" of Christ.

In a 4,000-word blueprint for evangelism, the World Council of Churches called on churches to break out of "isolation and introversion" and carry the Gospel to the world.

In God's work, said the message, "We are his agents."

The message, commended to the churches of 163 denominations in 48 nations, sets forth a number of specific steps for strengthening Christianity on a largely non-Christian earth.

It laid down this program:

1. Lay men and women, "the very outposts of the kingdom of God," should transmit their faith courageously "in every secular sphere" of life.

2. Churches should make "full use" of literature and the arts—radio, television, movies, publications—to "permeate the general consciousness" and encourage decisions for Christ.

But the report added "there are dangers in use of these media," and that methods in which the Gospel is "vulgarized or diluted into an easy alternative to facing the demand of God for a personal response" must be shunned.

3. A more "realistic training" of church ministry, including sending theological students into industry.

4. Expanded chaplaincies in hospitals, the armed forces, industry, the universities and schools.

5. New types of parish work, which reach not only the places where man "lives but where he works."

6. A "fresh presentation of the Gospel" to children and youth, through Sunday schools. Youth programs, Bible fellowships, discussion groups and in the home.

7. A Christian determination to "do battle for the redress" of social injustice.

In many countries—in Asia and parts of Africa, the report said, "the spread of new ideologies" to change oppressive conditions challenges Christianity to offer truer solutions.

8. Christians, whenever "separated by caste, class, racial or other barriers" will "boldly cross them, manifesting Christ's solidarity with the whole of mankind."

9. Christians, whatever the opposition, should "proclaim the whole truth of the Gospel."

"But we must always bear in mind that there are human elements in our witness to it which stand under the judgment of God," the message added.

10. The churches, to strengthen their message, should "passionately strive for unity" and "increasingly work together to bring the Gospel to the whole world."

Legion Told To Alter Its View On UMT

Atomic Commission Member Says Group Should Join A-Age

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27 (AP)—A member of Congress' Joint Committee on Atomic Energy today told the American Legion, which strongly favors universal military training, it should alter its views to meet the needs of the atomic age.

Rep. Hinshaw (R-Calif) called on the veterans' organization, in a speech before its National Security Commission, to look again at manpower policies and "be critical of the demands of the military on our nation's manpower."

Hinshaw, saying the scientist must outrank the soldier in an age when "true pushbutton warfare" may be imminent, spoke out as Legion policy makers drafted defense and other resolutions to be laid before the 36th national convention opening here Monday.

Reaffirms Support

National Commander Arthur J. Connell, in an annual report made public today, reaffirmed the Legion's support for a UMT program and voiced hope Congress will enact one as soon as final recommendations have been made by the National Security Council.

Another pre-convention speaker, Asst. Secretary of State Livingston T. Merchant, told the Legion group the United States cannot "go it alone" in world affairs "because there is nowhere to go."

The State Department official said there is an excellent chance of holding communism in check, and "eventually attracting enslaved peoples to freedom without another world war," if the United States and the free nations of Europe work in harmony.

"But the loss of these European allies," he said, "might leave the United States no effective means of stopping Communist imperialism until a mutually devastating war was forced upon it."

Largest Convention

Today's opening session of the three - day preliminary meeting came as legionnaires by the thousand poured into the capital for what is expected to be the biggest convention in their history. Some 150,000 are expected for the annual parade Tuesday.

Officials continued to press the White House to give government workers a half-holiday so they could swell the ranks of parade spectators. There was no indication, however, of a reversal of the Civil Service Commission's refusal to release federal employes.

Ike Lands Five Trout First Day

PINE, Colo., Aug. 27 (AP) — President Eisenhower landed five trout in the first 25 minutes of fishing today, and delighted spectators cut loose with a "Yea Ike."

The President motored from Denver, for the first fly casting of a work-and-play Colorado vacation which started last Saturday. Pine is 40 miles southwest of Denver.

He arrived at the ranch of Bal F. Swan in the Rocky Mountains at 9 a.m. (MST), and a half-hour later he had changed into fishing togs.

Five minutes after the President stepped into the stream, a fork of the South Platte River, he had his first strike but the trout shook free.

Eisenhower estimated the size of his first catch at "about 12 inches."

When he had been fishing a few more minutes, the President hooked his second fish — a 10-incher — and from a crowd of residents of the area and tourists gathered on the highway high above the stream there came a "Yea, Ike" chant.

Before leaving on today's fishing trip Eisenhower signed 28 more bills and vetoed two others.

The number of bills acted on by the President since leaving Washington last Saturday stood at 257, 251 approved and 6 vetoed, according to Wayne Hawks of the summer White House staff.

Hawks estimated Eisenhower still has about 255 bills to approve or veto.

Spotlight On Quemoy Isle After Attack

TAIPEH, Saturday, Aug. 28 (AP)—Red China has thrown the spotlight on Quemoy, strongest Nationalist-garrisoned island athwart the China coast, with a propaganda broadcast yesterday that 40 Communist soldiers staged a hit-run raid there Monday night.

There was no indication that the raid was a prelude to the Reds' widely heralded threat of invading Formosa, 120 miles to the east.

Peiping radio said the soldiers made two separate landings, killed 11 Nationalist soldiers and captured one before withdrawing to the mainland 15 miles away.

Quemoy is off Amoy port on the southeast China coast.

A high Nationalist military source in Taipeh said the Communists were playing a clever propaganda game in focusing attention of Quemoy as the center of a dreamed-up crisis.

"But we aren't going to fall for it or help them in any way," the source said.

Nationalist military quarters said no communique would be issued because the raid was too insignificant to merit such attention.

Both foreign and Nationalist military sources here appeared to be bewildered as to why a small "nuisance" raid should be considered anything extraordinary.

The only thing unusual, these sources pointed out, was the fact that the Reds publicized it—and in such a way at first as to give the totally false impression that an invasion of Quemoy might have been launched.

First Peiping reports said Chinese Red "people's liberation forces" had landed successfully on Quemoy.

Unofficial quarters expressed the opinion that the Nationalists would not reinforce Quemoy with troops even if the island were threatened. They pointed out that the best way the Nationalists could hit an attacking force would be from the air. And they said such air action would be "tellingly effective."

Child, Beaten By Hammer, Succumbs

ROCKFORD, Ill., Aug. 27 (AP)—Three-year-old Angela Gilbertson died today from injuries which police said were inflicted Wednesday night in a clawhammer beating by her mother.

A murder warrant was served immediately on brunette Mrs. Maxine Gilbertson, 29, in the Winnebago county jail where she has been held during the unsuccessful battle waged by doctors to save the child's life.

The mother was charged with killing her child to prevent her estranged husband, Grover, 30, a machinist, from obtaining custody.

Army Discounts League Charge

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27 (AP)—The Army said today that an inquiry had failed to establish any substance to allegations that racial prejudice had motivated security suspensions at the Ft. Monmouth, N. J., Signal Corps center.

The issue was raised by the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith in a long report given to the Army last February. The League asked Army Secretary Stevens to look into the situation.

The League document placed the blame for many suspensions of civilians at the Signal Corps center on a civilian security officer and said there was "sufficient evidence and persuasive hearsay" to conclude that that official "personally is an anti-Semite."

The League report noted also that 38 of 42 civilians suspended at one time or another at Ft. Monmouth were Jewish.

LONDON, Aug. 27 (AP)—A Soviet naval force of 3 cruisers and 12 destroyers has been sighted steaming down the Norwegian coast, the British Admiralty said tonight.

British Cabinet Rejects SEATO Military Action

LONDON, Aug. 27 (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill's Cabinet today rejected proposals that members of the projected Southeast Asian Treaty Organization be bound automatically to fight for any partner nation that was attacked.

Such a commitment was proposed by Thailand and the Philippines in diplomatic exchanges among the eight prospective SEATO members. This would be about as strong as the pledge that binds the 14 North Atlantic Pact partners.

Informed officials reported after a 2½-hour Cabinet meeting that Britain will accept a commitment binding each SEATO nation to regard an attack on one as a threat to the security of all. Consultations—and not automatic military action—would follow.

Churchill summoned his ministers into emergency session in preparation for two main diplomatic events:

1. The crisis that will face the Allies if France finally rejects the six-nation European Defense Community Treaty.

2. The Manila conference Sept. 6 called to set up SEATO. It is to be attended by Britain, France, the United States, Australia, New Zealand, the Philippines, Thailand and Pakistan.

The officials said Britain will enter the Manila talks determined to press for a constructive, unhurried approach to all the problems relating to security in Southeast Asia and the Western Pacific.

Heavy British emphasis may be expected on the need for a big international program for helping the nations of the region economically, financially and technically.

The Churchill government still hopes to bring some of the uncommitted, middle-of-the-road nations of Asia—such as India, Burma and Indonesia—into the economic aid program. These three countries have rejected invitations to join in the SEATO talks, but Britain wants to bring them into the wider program for economic cooperation.

Airplane Stays Aloft At Speed Of Only 11 MPH

OXNARD, Calif., Aug. 27 (AP)—An airplane that stays aloft at speeds as slow as 11 miles an hour was disclosed today by the Custer Channel Wing Corp.

The firm said the 2½-ton, twin-engine Custer Channel Wing 5 also zoomed up from Oxnard Airport at the rate of 3,000 feet per minute after using less than 200 feet of runway.

The pilot in the latest flight, Walter J. Davidson, flight engineer for the Hagerstown, Md., corporation, said he brought the plane from 180 miles an hour down to 11 m.p.h. The aircraft was practically hovering he said.

The inboard section of the plane's wing is bent like a half barrel, with engines mounted in the half barrels.

Icebreakers Plow Through McClure Strait In Safety

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27 (AP)—The Navy said today two U. S. ice breakers had plowed through McClure Strait, a western entrance to the Northwest Passage linking Atlantic and Pacific oceans across the top of Canada.

The Navy said these vessels are the first to traverse this previously impassable strait.

The ice breaker Burton Island and the Coast Guard ice breaker North Wind made the historic voyages earlier this month.

Burton Island cut through the ice of the strait from east to west Aug. 11-16, and North Wind entered the strait from the Arctic Ocean and went through from west to east Aug. 13-21.

ILA Becomes Longshoremen's Bargain Agent

NEW YORK, Aug. 27 (AP) — The International Longshoremen's Assn. today won a bitter, months-long struggle for recognition as bargaining agent for the port of New York's 25,000 dock workers.

The National Labor Relations Board announced it would certify the Independent ILA as winner of a representation election against a rival AFL union.

From a practical point of view, the outcome of the election represented a sharp setback for the AFL and a boost for the United Mine Workers chief, John L. Lewis.

The AFL expelled the ILA last September on grounds that it was dominated by racketeers. Lewis lent heavy financial support to the orphaned union in its struggle with a rival union setup by the AFL in an attempt to wrest jurisdiction over East Coast waterfronts.

The chief of the victorious union said today that although Lewis had attached no strings to his support, the ILA may affiliate itself with the UMW.

ILA President William V. Bradley said after today's decision the union would move immediately to resume bargaining with New York shippers. The longshoremen had been without a contract since September.

The NLRB's decision settled—at least temporarily — the most stormy rivalry in the history of the world's largest port.

The struggle saw the ILA, which for decades represented local longshoremen, orphaned by the AFL, stricken time and again with federal and state injunctions and eventually thrown into receivership.

Today, however, Bradley crowed that the union is "in good shape, morally and financially," after "overcoming the politicians." He said it would move immediately to consolidate its position, with 60,000 members in the United States and Canada.

One of the first agencies to move against the ILA was the New York State Crime Commission. Its disclosures of racketeering led Gov. Thomas E. Dewey to term the ILA "a racket—not a union."

Dewey made no secret of his sympathy toward the AFL in its attempt to eliminate the ILA by first expelling it and then setting up a union aimed at superseding its control over longshoremen.

War Minister Says Generals Broke Promise

Sharp Differences Appear In Army As Cafe Seeks Cabinet

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil, Aug. 27 (AP)—President Joao Cafe Filho squared up today to a new military - political crisis, stemming from the deep-seated disturbances that led to the ouster and suicide of Getulio Vargas, his predecessor.

Highlighting the situation was a bitter statement from Gen. Zenobio da Costa, war minister in the Vargas regime, accusing the generals now backing Cafe of having broken their promises to keep backing Vargas. A sharp schism in the armed forces appeared to be continuing.

Meets A Setback

Politically, Cafe's efforts to form an all-party government met setbacks as he sought to find a temporary congressional base for his administration. He must attempt to placate political and military factions striving for power in the vacuum left by the death at 71 of the iron man who had ruled Brazil through most of the last quarter century.

Also confronting the three-day-old government was the possibility of a general strike.

Da Costa's attack on the military men supporting Cafe said he had been prepared to lead part of the army against other factions of the army, navy and air force to fulfill pledges made to Vargas to uphold the constitution. He made his charge of betrayal in a statement submitted to the new minister of war, Gen. Henrique Baptista Teixeira.

Vargas was forced by high army and air officers to step down as president Tuesday. Four hours later he put a bullet through his heart. Da Costa said Vargas agreed to leave the presidency to prevent bloodshed.

Plan To Replace Da Costa

Da Costa also said Cafe had asked him to remain in host as war minister, but that he learned the new president was conferring with other generals to replace him.

"Then I knew the same men who had betrayed their commitment of honor in the meeting of generals had taken hold of Catete (the presidential palace) and were again maneuvering against me", he said.

In his resignation, da Costa declared, "I will not serve such people."

On the political front, Cafe's steps to form an all-party government ran into trouble. The Social Democratic party—the largest in Congress—announced it would support but not endorse the new government. Vargas' Labor party, after a series of meetings, indicated it would actively oppose the new regime. Previously the Labor party had said it would back Cafe.

Vargas governed through a coalition, and various political leaders have indicated that the alliance ended with Vargas' ouster.

Sept. 4 Declared Legal Md. Holiday

ANNAPOLIS, Aug. 27 (AP)—Gov. McKeldin today proclaimed Saturday, Sept. 4, a legal holiday in Maryland to lengthen the Labor Day holiday weekend.

The Governor's proclamation noted that it was "unlikely that a large volume of business will be transacted" the Saturday immediately preceding Labor Day, Monday, Sept. 6. He said persons in industrial and retail businesses had requested the extra legal holiday.

Appeals Court Orders New Trial For John Provoo

NEW YORK, Aug. 27 (AP)—A federal appeals court today upset John D. Provoo's treason conviction and life sentence, one of the weirdest to come out of World War II. A new trial was ordered.

The U. S. Court of Appeals unanimously said the case never should have been tried in New York, and that the government wrongfully insinuated before the jury that the former Army sergeant was homosexual.

It was left to the Department of Justice to decide whether to retry the case in Maryland, which the court ruled was its proper setting. Provoo was an Army prisoner there before he was brought to New York and arrested for treason.

The reversal wiped out a million-dollar government investment. With witnesses brought from all over the world, it cost the government that much to convict the handsome, square-jawed 36-year-old former San Francisco bank clerk.

Provoo was convicted Feb. 11, 1953, of broadcasting wartime propaganda for the Japanese, of abusing fellow American soldiers in wartime Pacific hell camps, and of causing the death of Army Capt. Burton C. Thomson of Sea City, Iowa, by informing on him to their Japanese captors.

He was liable to the death penalty. But Federal Judge Gregory F. Noonan spared his life and gave him the maximum prison sentence instead. Provoo has since been held in the federal detention house here.

Provoo studied Buddhism during a visit to Japan before he joined the American Army in 1941.

Texas Democrats To Choose Governor In Primary Today

DALLAS, Aug. 27 (AP)—Texas Democrats who went for President Eisenhower in 1952 will choose tomorrow between the governor who led them and the challenger who says they were misled by a political turncoat.

The split between conservatives and liberals is the basic issue in the race between Gov. Allan Shivers and Atty. Ralph Yarborough of Austin.

Both Shivers, the conservative, and Yarborough, the liberal, raised many other issues in their first Democratic primary campaign, which wound up in no decision July 24. They have raised others in the runoff, which ends tomorrow.

The winner will be opposed in the general election in November by Republican Todd Adams of Houston. But Democratic nomination for the governorship has been equivalent to election in Texas since reconstruction days.

Shivers beat Yarborough by more than 300,000 votes in the 1952 primary, before he led the state Democratic party in its open backing of President Eisenhower.

The governor's lead in the first primary this year was 23,787 votes. A total of 36,320 votes for two minor candidates, Arlon B. (Cyclone) Davis of Dallas and J. J. Holmes of Austin, prevented either of the main contenders from getting the majority vote required.

Yarborough has continued to hammer at Shivers' backing of Eisenhower in the runoff campaign. He calls Shivers "my Republican opponent." Yarborough also has criticized Shivers for seeking to become the first Texas governor elected to three consecutive terms.

"But the loss of these European allies," he said, "might leave the United States no effective means of stopping Communist imperialism until a mutually devastating war was forced upon it."

Largest Convention

Today's opening session of the three - day preliminary meeting came as legionnaires by the thousand poured into the capital for what is expected to be the biggest convention in their history. Some 150,000 are expected for the annual parade Tuesday.

Officials continued to press the White House to give government workers a half-holiday so they could swell the ranks of parade spectators. There was no indication, however, of a reversal of the Civil Service Commission's refusal to release federal employes.

Ike Lands Five Trout First Day

PINE, Colo., Aug. 27 (AP) — President Eisenhower landed five trout in the first 25 minutes of fishing today, and delighted spectators cut loose with a "Yea Ike."

The President motored from Denver, for the first fly casting of a work-and-play Colorado vacation which started last Saturday. Pine is 40 miles southwest of Denver.

He arrived at the ranch of Bal F. Swan in the Rocky Mountains at 9 a.m. (MST), and a half-hour later he had changed into fishing togs.

Five minutes after the President stepped into the stream, a fork of the South Platte River, he had his first strike but the trout shook free.

Eisenhower estimated the size of his first catch at "about 12 inches."

When he had been fishing a few more minutes, the President hooked his second fish — a 10-incher — and from a crowd of residents of the area and tourists gathered on the highway high above the stream there came a "Yea, Ike" chant.

Before leaving on today's fishing trip Eisenhower signed 28 more bills and vetoed two others.

The number of bills acted on by the President since leaving Washington last Saturday stood at 257, 251 approved and 6 vetoed, according to Wayne Hawks of the summer White House staff.

Hawks estimated Eisenhower still has about 255 bills to approve or veto.

Spotlight On Quemoy Isle After Attack

TAIPEH, Saturday, Aug. 28 (AP)—Red China has thrown the spotlight on Quemoy, strongest Nationalist-garrisoned island athwart the China coast, with a propaganda broadcast yesterday that 40 Communist soldiers staged a hit-run raid there Monday night.

There was no indication that the raid was a prelude to the Reds' widely heralded threat of invading Formosa, 120 miles to the east.

Peiping radio said the soldiers made two separate landings, killed 11 Nationalist soldiers and captured one before withdrawing to the mainland 15 miles away.

Quemoy is off Amoy port on the southeast China coast.

A high Nationalist military source in Taipeh said the Communists were playing a clever propaganda game in focusing attention of Quemoy as the center of a dreamed-up crisis.

"But we aren't going to fall for it or help them in any way," the source said.

Nationalist military quarters said no communique would be issued because the raid was too insignificant to merit such attention.

Both foreign and Nationalist military sources here appeared to be bewildered as to why a small "nuisance" raid should be considered anything extraordinary.

The only thing unusual, these sources pointed out, was the fact that the Reds publicized it—and in such a way at first as to give the totally false impression that an invasion of Quemoy might have been launched.

First Peiping reports said Chinese Red "people's liberation forces" had landed successfully on Quemoy.

Unofficial quarters expressed the opinion that the Nationalists would not reinforce Quemoy with troops even if the island were threatened. They pointed out that the best way the Nationalists could hit an attacking force would be from the air. And they said such air action would be "tellingly effective."

ROCKFORD, Ill., Aug. 27 (AP)—Three-year-old Angela Gilbertson died today from injuries which police said were inflicted Wednesday night in a clawhammer beating by her mother.

A murder warrant was served immediately on brunette Mrs. Maxine Gilbertson, 29, in the Winnebago county jail where she has been held during the unsuccessful battle waged by doctors to save the child's life.

The mother was charged with killing her child to prevent her estranged husband, Grover, 30, a machinist, from obtaining custody.

Army Discounts League Charge

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27 (AP)—The Army said today that an inquiry had failed to establish any substance to allegations that racial prejudice had motivated security suspensions at the Ft. Monmouth, N. J., Signal Corps center.

The issue was raised by the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith in a long report given to the Army last February. The League asked Army Secretary Stevens to look into the situation.

The League document placed the blame for many suspensions of civilians at the Signal Corps center on a civilian security officer and said there was "sufficient evidence and persuasive hearsay" to conclude that that official "personally is an anti-Semite."

The League report noted also that 38 of 42 civilians suspended at one time or another at Ft. Monmouth were Jewish.

British Cabinet Rejects SEATO Military Action

LONDON, Aug. 27 (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill's Cabinet today rejected proposals that members of the projected Southeast Asian Treaty Organization be bound automatically to fight for any partner nation that was attacked.

Such a commitment was proposed by Thailand and the Philippines in diplomatic exchanges among the eight prospective SEATO members. This would be about as strong as the pledge that binds the 14 North Atlantic Pact partners.

Informed officials reported after a 2½-hour Cabinet meeting that Britain will accept a commitment binding each SEATO nation to regard an attack on one as a threat to the security of all. Consultations—and not automatic military action—would follow.

Churchill summoned his ministers into emergency session in preparation for two main diplomatic events:

1. The crisis that will face the Allies if France finally rejects the six-nation European Defense Community Treaty.

2. The Manila conference Sept. 6 called to set up SEATO. It is to be attended by Britain, France, the United States, Australia, New Zealand, the Philippines, Thailand and Pakistan.

The officials said Britain will enter the Manila talks determined to press for a constructive, unhurried approach to all the problems relating to security in Southeast Asia and the Western Pacific.

Heavy British emphasis may be expected on the need for a big international program for helping the nations of the region economically, financially and technically.

The Churchill government still hopes to bring some of the uncommitted, middle-of-the-road nations of Asia—such as India, Burma and Indonesia—into the economic aid program. These three countries have rejected invitations to join in the SEATO talks, but Britain wants to bring them into the wider program for economic cooperation.

Airplane Stays Aloft At Speed Of Only 11 MPH

OXNARD, Calif., Aug. 27 (AP)—An airplane that stays aloft at speeds as slow as 11 miles an hour was disclosed today by the Custer Channel Wing Corp.

The firm said the 2½-ton, twin-engine Custer Channel Wing 5 also zoomed up from Oxnard Airport at the rate of 3,000 feet per minute after using less than 200 feet of runway.

The pilot in the latest flight, Walter J. Davidson, flight engineer for the Hagerstown, Md., corporation, said he brought the plane from 180 miles an hour down to 11 m.p.h. The aircraft was practically hovering he said.

The inboard section of the plane's wing is bent like a half barrel, with engines mounted in the half barrels.

Icebreakers Plow Through McClure Strait In Safety

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27 (AP)—The Navy said today two U. S. ice breakers had plowed through McClure Strait, a western entrance to the Northwest Passage linking Atlantic and Pacific oceans across the top of Canada.

The Navy said these vessels are the first to traverse this previously impassable strait.

The ice breaker Burton Island and the Coast Guard ice breaker North Wind made the historic voyages earlier this month.

Burton Island cut through the ice of the strait from east to west Aug. 11-16, and North Wind entered the strait from the Arctic Ocean and went through from west to east Aug. 13-21.

ILA Becomes Longshoremen's Bargain Agent

NEW YORK, Aug. 27 (AP) — The International Longshoremen's Assn. today won a bitter, months-long struggle for recognition as bargaining agent for the port of New York's 25,000 dock workers.

The National Labor Relations Board announced it would certify the Independent ILA as winner of a representation election against a rival AFL union.

From a practical point of view, the outcome of the election represented a sharp setback for the AFL and a boost for the United Mine Workers chief, John L. Lewis.

The AFL expelled the ILA last September on grounds that it was dominated by racketeers. Lewis lent heavy financial support to the orphaned union in its struggle with a rival union setup by the AFL in an attempt to wrest jurisdiction over East Coast waterfronts.

The chief of the victorious union said today that although Lewis had attached no strings to his support, the ILA may affiliate itself with the UMW.

ILA President William V. Bradley said after today's decision the union would move immediately to resume bargaining with New York shippers. The longshoremen had been without a contract since September.

The NLRB's decision settled—at least temporarily — the most stormy rivalry in the history of the world's largest port.

The struggle saw the ILA, which for decades represented local longshoremen, orphaned by the AFL, stricken time and again with federal and state injunctions and eventually thrown into receivership.

Today, however, Bradley crowed that the union is "in good shape, morally and financially," after "overcoming the politicians." He said it would move immediately to consolidate its position, with 60,000 members in the United States and Canada.

One of the first agencies to move against the ILA was the New York State Crime Commission. Its disclosures of racketeering led Gov. Thomas E. Dewey to term the ILA "a racket—not a union."

Dewey made no secret of his sympathy toward the AFL in its attempt to eliminate the ILA by first expelling it and then setting up a union aimed at superseding its control over longshoremen.

War Minister Says Generals Broke Promise

Sharp Differences Appear In Army As Cafe Seeks Cabinet

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil, Aug. 27 (AP)—President Joao Cafe Filho squared up today to a new military - political crisis, stemming from the deep-seated disturbances that led to the ouster and suicide of Getulio Vargas, his predecessor.

Highlighting the situation was a bitter statement from Gen. Zenobio da Costa, war minister in the Vargas regime, accusing the generals now backing Cafe of having broken their promises to keep backing Vargas. A sharp schism in the armed forces appeared to be continuing.

Meets A Setback

Politically, Cafe's efforts to form an all-party government met setbacks as he sought to find a temporary congressional base for his administration. He must attempt to placate political and military factions striving for power in the vacuum left by the death at 71 of the iron man who had ruled Brazil through most of the last quarter century.

Also confronting the three-day-old government was the possibility of a general strike.

Da Costa's attack on the military men supporting Cafe said he had been prepared to lead part of the army against other factions of the army, navy and air force to fulfill pledges made to Vargas to uphold the constitution. He made his charge of betrayal in a statement submitted to the new minister of war, Gen. Henrique Baptista Teixeira.

Vargas was forced by high army and air officers to step down as president Tuesday. Four hours later he put a bullet through his heart. Da Costa said Vargas agreed to leave the presidency to prevent bloodshed.

Plan To Replace Da Costa

Da Costa also said Cafe had asked him to remain in host as war minister, but that he learned the new president was conferring with other generals to replace him.

"Then I knew the same men who had betrayed their commitment of honor in the meeting of generals had taken hold of Catete (the presidential palace) and were again maneuvering against me", he said.

In his resignation, da Costa declared, "I will not serve such people."

On the political front, Cafe's steps to form an all-party government ran into trouble. The Social Democratic party—the largest in Congress—announced it would support but not endorse the new government. Vargas' Labor party, after a series of meetings, indicated it would actively oppose the new regime. Previously the Labor party had said it would back Cafe.

Vargas governed through a coalition, and various political leaders have indicated that the alliance ended with Vargas' ouster.

Sept. 4 Declared Legal Md. Holiday

ANNAPOLIS, Aug. 27 (AP)—Gov. McKeldin today proclaimed Saturday, Sept. 4, a legal holiday in Maryland to lengthen the Labor Day holiday weekend.

The Governor's proclamation noted that it was "unlikely that a large volume of business will be transacted" the Saturday immediately preceding Labor Day, Monday, Sept. 6. He said persons in industrial and retail businesses had requested the extra legal holiday.

Texas Democrats To Choose Governor In Primary Today

DALLAS, Aug. 27 (AP)—Texas Democrats who went for President Eisenhower in 1952 will choose tomorrow between the governor who led them and the challenger who says they were misled by a political turncoat.

The split between conservatives and liberals is the basic issue in the race between Gov. Allan Shivers and Atty. Ralph Yarborough of Austin.

Both Shivers, the conservative, and Yarborough, the liberal, raised many other issues in their first Democratic primary campaign, which wound up in no decision July 24. They have raised others in the runoff, which ends tomorrow.

The winner will be opposed in the general election in November by Republican Todd Adams of Houston. But Democratic nomination for the governorship has been equivalent to election in Texas since reconstruction days.

Shivers beat Yarborough by more than 300,000 votes in the 1952 primary, before the governor led the state Democratic party in its open backing of President Eisenhower.

The governor's lead in the first primary this year was 23,787 votes. A total of 36,320 votes for two minor candidates, Arlon B. (Cyclone) Davis of Dallas and J. J. Holmes of Austin, prevented either of the main contenders from getting the required simple majority.

Yarborough has continued to hammer at Shivers' backing of Eisenhower in the runoff campaign. He calls Shivers "my Republican opponent." Yarborough also has criticized Shivers for seeking to become the first Texas governor elected to three consecutive terms.

Mahoney Concedes Election To Byrd

State Convention To Meet On Monday

BALTIMORE, Aug. 27 (AP)—The bitter contest for the Democratic nomination for governor came to an end at long last today when George P. Mahoney gave up and conceded Dr. H. C. Byrd won the primary almost nine weeks ago.

Mahoney's announcement paved the way for the Democratic State Convention to give the nomination formally to Byrd when it meets here Monday morning.

At the same time, Philip H. Dorsey Jr., who ran for attorney general on the Mahoney ticket, announced he had abandoned the idea of going to court to challenge the outcome of that race.

His action gave the nomination to State Sen. C. Ferdinand Sybert of Howard County, Byrd's partner in the primary.

Mahoney's formal statement of withdrawal from the two-month legal battle expressed thanks to those who supported him in the June 28 primary.

Recognizes Complaints

It also took cognizance of complaints he had jeopardized the chances of Democratic victory in November by dragging out the primary battle in the courts.

Mahoney said:

"Now that the party convention is about to proceed with the conduct of its business, the Democratic party should be able to launch a full-scale campaign by the time summer vacations are over and Marylanders resume their interest in politics.

"In 1950, the Democratic convention nominated its candidate for governor on Oct. 2. This year, the nomination will have been made before the end of August—allowing twice the time for campaigning before the November general election as the candidates had in 1950."

He attacked particularly the outcome in Talbot and Queen Annes Counties.

Reduces Byrd's Margin

A recount in Queen Annes reduced the margin of Byrd's victory there from 53 to 22 votes. A recount in Talbot reduced Byrd's margin three votes, from 60 to 57. Chief Judge William R. Horney of the Third Judicial Circuit, in a further review of the Talbot County ballots, cut the Byrd margin four more votes.

But Judge Horney refused to throw out 254 more ballots. Mahoney complained they were illegally defaced with dots, tears and even lipstick. Judge Horney said he could find no suggestion there was fraud or wilfull wrong involved.

The Maryland Court of Appeals upheld him Wednesday, virtually knocking the props out from under Mahoney's campaign to overturn the outcome of the primary in the courts.

Today's action left Byrd and Sybert teamed in an effort to beat Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin and his attorney general, Edward D.E. Rollins, in November.

Committee Seeks Desegregation Of Schools In City

HOBBS, N. M., Aug. 27 (AP)—A citizens committee fighting a last-ditch stand against desegregation of Hobbs school accused authorities today of holding one of the group's leaders as "hostage."

The statement was issued today by the Hobbs Segregation Committee after Dist. Atty. Pat Hanagan warned the Rev. Bill T. Carter that interference with school attendance was unlawful.

The Baptist minister has led the attempt to keep segregation in the Hobbs school system. He declared he feared "rioting" when the schools open Monday.

Hanagan recited to the clergymen and eight other members of the segregation committee the New Mexico laws dealing with unlawful assembly, conspiracy and other violence.

Carter commented later, "I can't do anything now to stop my people. They'd think I was scared. My hide is stretched on a fence."

The committee statement quoted Hanagan that "if any Negro child was kept from going to the school of his choice Bill T. Carter would be liable for prosecution."

The statement added that "we hear stories like that every day about relatives that are held behind the Iron Curtain as hostages for the people who escape from the Iron Curtain."

Hanagan brought two deputy sheriffs, a state policeman and a Hobbs police officer to a stormy session with Carter and his committee. Hanagan said he wanted law enforcement officers to know what was going on.

"You called me here but I didn't know every gunman in the country was going to be here," Carter snapped referring to the policemen.

Meantime Negro and white children in this southeast New Mexico oil town went to school today together to register and no incidents were reported.

The Hobbs school board last May ordered desegregation of public schools in line with a U.S. Supreme Court decision. Carter's group has sought court action to keep the schools segregated.

Reporters Tour Red Auto Plant

MOSCOW, Aug. 27 (AP)—The Soviet Union threw open the gates of the Stalin Motor Works for a tour by Eastern correspondents yesterday.

The correspondents saw four-ton trucks coming off a quarter-mile assembly line at what Asst. Director Ivan Karzov said was a rate of one every five minutes during an eight-hour working day; six-cylinder front engine gasoline buses at what he said was a rate of 12 daily; bicycles at a reported clip of 1,200 daily.

Short-term visitors to the Soviet Union have been to the Stalin works before, but this was the first time resident correspondents have been permitted to enter the establishment, sprawling over several square miles in northeast Moscow.

Karsov said the plant—second in size to the Molotov Motor Works at Gorky—employs 40,000 persons, 40 per cent of them women, earning from 800 to 2,500 rubles a month. The ruble is quoted officially at an exchange rate of four to the dollar.

Get A Hammock Doctor Says For Those Sleepless Nights

BALTIMORE, Aug. 27 (AP)—If you have trouble sleeping on hot and humid summer nights, Dr. Douglas H. K. Lee has this word for you: Get a hammock.

Dr. Lee is a professor at Johns Hopkins University and his suggestion stems from a study he has been making on "physiological objectives in hot weather housing."

Try a room with northeast exposure, he says, to permit the entry of cooler night air.

The best windows reach down to the floor.

A fan is good, but it should blow the air across you at a rate of no more than 150 feet a minute and then intermittently.

If you have an air conditioner, let it make you just comfortable, not chilly.

Now, about the hammock. Dr. Lee talking:

"One of the biggest impediments to restful sleep on a hot night is the standard Western bed.

"Derived from countries with cold winters, it manages to present a minimum area of skin to the air, even if sleeping is done without benefit of conventional attire. . . . (you mean in the raw, doctor?).

"The thermally most suitable sleeping device under hot and humid conditions experiments have shown to be the string hammock, especially if it is kept spread by crossbars at head and foot.

"Those accustomed to soft sleeping, stability or space must either use their ingenuity to work out a suitable modification of the hammock design or resign themselves to sweating it out."

India Attacks SEATO Plan

NEW DELHI, India, Aug. 27 (AP)—India's chief United Nations delegate, V. K. Krishna Menon, attacked the U.S.-proposed Southeast Asia Treaty Organization in Parliament today as "a modern version of a protectorate, designed to defend an area against its will."

In the strongest Indian blast yet at SEATO, Menon told the Upper House it "cannot by any stretch of the imagination come under the United Nations charter."

"The charter permits regional organizations," he said in a foreign affairs debate. "This is an organization of outsiders trying to protect a region."

Menon linked his contention that SEATO has no status under the U.N. with the Geneva conference restrictions on military alliances of the three associated states of Indochina—Viet Nam, Laos and Cambodia.

He asserted the Geneva agreement permits them to join military alliances and take outside military help only if there is a threat to their security.

In his opinion, Menon added, only the U.N. Security Council, by unanimous vote, can decide whether there is a violation of security—and SEATO, he added, cannot be regarded as coming under the U.N. charter.

Brakes Fail, Truck Crashes Into Home

HAVER DE GRACE, Md., Aug. 27 (AP)—A big trailer truck was heading downgrade toward the Susquehanna River Bridge toll booths today when its driver hit the brakes and found he had none.

A companion grabbed a handbrake and it broke off.

The driver leaned on his air horn as the truck rolled on and bridge workers scattered.

The runaway truck zipped between the booths, clipped another truck, careened out of control for a hundred yards and then crashed into the rear of a home where a father and his two children slept.

Paul Gabbart and his two children, Gary, 12, and Diane, 3, were unhurt, if a bit soaked from water which spewed from a broken water line.

Polio Outbreak Hits Cambridge

CAMBRIDGE, Md., Aug. 27 (AP)—One little Cambridge boy died of polio today and another was critically ill with the deadly bulbar type.

They were the second and third cases here within a month.

Allen L. Dennis Jr., 5-year-old son of an accountant at Eastern Shore State Hospital, died as attendants at Cambridge-Maryland hospital were about to load him into an ambulance for transfer to the polio treatment center at City Hospitals in Baltimore.

He had been stricken on Monday and his left arm and leg were paralyzed.

Bobby Dunn, 6-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dunn, was sent along to Baltimore in the ambulance.

He was stricken Wednesday and Dr. Louis S. Welty, acting Dorchester County health officer, said he had the bulbar type of polio. Bulbar polio attacks the nerves high in the spinal column or at the base of the brain and often impairs the brain center which controls breathing.

The Dennis boy is survived by his parents and a year-old brother.

A five-year-old Cambridge boy stricken late in July already is at City Hospitals in Baltimore.

Specialists at the State Health Department in Baltimore expressed a belief the sudden outbreak in Cambridge may stem from the fact there have been so few cases there in recent years immunity to it has generally declined.

Goodyear Tire Company, Union Reach Agreement

CLEVELAND, Aug. 27 (AP)—Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. and the CIO United Rubber Workers reached an agreement today granting 23,000 production workers wage increases of at least 6 cents an hour, to end a 51-day strike in the company's 10 plants.

The formula could serve as a wage pattern for most of the industry. One source close to the negotiations said Goodyear's annual payroll would go up about $6,500,000.

The agreement still is subject to ratification by union locals, but officials indicated they expected approval.

In eight plants the increase will be 6 cents. For 1,200 workers at Topeka, Kan., it will be 10 cents, and for about 2,500 at Gadsden, Ala., it will be 8 cents. On an average, the raise will amount to 6½ cents an hour.

The union had asked 7½ cents an hour, plus 5¼ cents for what it termed "interplant inequities" in unspecified plants. The average hourly wage for all Goodyear production workers has been $2.08.

Of the industry's "Big Four" producers, one other has been hit by a strike. The night of Aug. 12 approximately 25,500 union members in eight plants of Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. walked out.

Negotiations are continuing at B. F. Goodrich Co., which employs about 18,000, and at U.S. Rubber Co., which employs about 35,000.

In the case of Firestone, the entire contract has expired. At Goodyear, U.S. Rubber and Goodrich, the contracts do not expire until next year, but negotiations were based on wage reopening clauses.

Mahoney Concedes Election To Byrd

State Convention To Meet On Monday

BALTIMORE, Aug. 27 (AP)—The bitter contest for the Democratic nomination for governor came to an end at long last today when George P. Mahoney gave up and conceded Dr. H. C. Byrd won the primary almost nine weeks ago.

Mahoney's announcement paved the way for the Democratic State Convention to give the nomination formally to Byrd when it meets here Monday morning.

At the same time, Philip H. Dorsey Jr., who ran for attorney general on the Mahoney ticket, announced he had abandoned the idea of going to court to challenge the outcome of that race.

His action gave the nomination to State Sen. C. Ferdinand Sybert of Howard County, Byrd's partner in the primary.

Mahoney's formal statement of withdrawal from the two-month legal battle expressed thanks to those who supported him in the June 28 primary.

Recognizes Complaints

It also took cognizance of complaints he had jeopardized the chances of Democratic victory in November by dragging out the primary battle in the courts.

Mahoney said:

"Now that the party convention is about to proceed with the conduct of its business, the Democratic party should be able to launch a full-scale campaign by the time summer vacations are over and Marylanders resume their interest in politics.

"In 1950, the Democratic convention nominated its candidate for governor on Oct. 2. This year, the nomination will have been made before the end of August—allowing twice the time for campaigning before the November general election as the candidates had in 1950."

He attacked particularly the outcome in Talbot and Queen Annes Counties.

Reduces Byrd's Margin

A recount in Queen Annes reduced the margin of Byrd's victory there from 53 to 22 votes. A recount in Talbot reduced Byrd's margin three votes, from 60 to 57. Chief Judge William R. Horney of the Third Judicial Circuit, in a further review of the Talbot County ballots, cut the Byrd margin four more votes.

But Judge Horney refused to throw out 254 more ballots. Mahoney complained they were illegally defaced with dots, tears and even lipstick. Judge Horney said he could find no suggestion there was fraud or wilfull wrong involved.

The Maryland Court of Appeals upheld him Wednesday, virtually knocking the props out from under Mahoney's campaign to overturn the outcome of the primary in the courts.

Today's action left Byrd and Sybert teamed in an effort to beat Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin and his attorney general, Edward D.E. Rollins, in November.

Committee Seeks Desegregation Of Schools In City

HOBBS, N. M., Aug. 27 (AP)—A citizens committee fighting a last-ditch stand against desegregation of Hobbs school accused authorities today of holding one of the group's leaders as "hostage."

The statement was issued today by the Hobbs Segregation Committee after Dist. Atty. Pat Hanagan warned the Rev. Bill T. Carter that interference with school attendance was unlawful.

The Baptist minister has led the attempt to keep segregation in the Hobbs school system. He declared he feared "rioting" when the schools open Monday.

Hanagan recited to the clergymen and eight other members of the segregation committee the New Mexico laws dealing with unlawful assembly, conspiracy and other violence.

Carter commented later, "I can't do anything now to stop my people. They'd think I was scared. My hide is stretched on a fence."

The committee statement quoted Hanagan that "if any Negro child was kept from going to the school of his choice Bill T. Carter would be liable for prosecution."

The statement added that "we hear stories like that every day about relatives that are held behind the Iron Curtain as hostages for the people who escape from the Iron Curtain."

Hanagan brought two deputy sheriffs, a state policeman and a Hobbs police officer to a stormy session with Carter and his committee. Hanagan said he wanted law enforcement officers to know what was going on.

"You called me here but I didn't know every gunman in the country was going to be here," Carter snapped referring to the policemen.

Meantime Negro and white children in this southeast New Mexico oil town went to school today together to register and no incidents were reported.

The Hobbs school board last May ordered desegregation of public schools in line with a U.S. Supreme Court decision. Carter's group has sought court action to keep the schools segregated.

Reporters Tour Red Auto Plant

MOSCOW, Aug. 27 (AP)—The Soviet Union threw open the gates of the Stalin Motor Works for a tour by Eastern correspondents yesterday.

The correspondents saw four-ton trucks coming off a quarter-mile assembly line at what Asst. Director Ivan Karzov said was a rate of one every five minutes during an eight-hour working day; six-cylinder front engine gasoline buses at what he said was a rate of 12 daily; bicycles at a reported clip of 1,200 daily.

Short-term visitors to the Soviet Union have been to the Stalin works before, but this was the first time resident correspondents have been permitted to enter the establishment, sprawling over several square miles in northeast Moscow.

Karsov said the plant—second in size to the Molotov Motor Works at Gorky—employs 40,000 persons, 40 per cent of them women, earning from 800 to 2,500 rubles a month. The ruble is quoted officially at an exchange rate of four to the dollar.

Get A Hammock Doctor Says For Those Sleepless Nights

BALTIMORE, Aug. 27 (AP)—If you have trouble sleeping on hot and humid summer nights, Dr. Douglas H K. Lee has this word for you: Get a hammock.

Dr. Lee is a professor at Johns Hopkins University and his suggestion stems from a study he has been making on "physiological objectives in hot weather housing."

Try a room with northeast exposure, he says, to permit the entry of cooler night air.

The best windows reach down to the floor.

A fan is good, but it should blow the air across you at a rate of no more than 150 feet a minute and then intermittently.

If you have an air conditioner, let it make you just comfortable, not chilly.

Now, about the hammock. Dr. Lee talking:

"One of the biggest impediments to restful sleep on a hot night is the standard Western bed.

"Derived from countries with cold winters, it manages to present a minimum area of skin to the air, even if sleeping is done without benefit of conventional attire. . . . (you mean in the raw, doctor?).

"The thermally most suitable sleeping device under hot and humid conditions experiments have shown to be the string hammock, especially if it is kept spread by crossbars at head and foot.

"Those accustomed to soft sleeping, stability or space must either use their ingenuity to work out a suitable modification of the hammock design or resign themselves to sweating it out."

India Attacks SEATO Plan

NEW DELHI, India, Aug. 27 (AP)—India's chief United Nations delegate, V. K. Krishna Menon, attacked the U.S.-proposed Southeast Asia Treaty Organization in Parliament today as "a modern version of a protectorate, designed to defend an area against its will."

In the strongest Indian blast yet at SEATO, Menon told the Upper House it "cannot by any stretch of the imagination come under the United Nations charter."

"The charter permits regional organizations," he said in a foreign affairs debate. "This is an organization of outsiders trying to protect a region."

Menon linked his contention that SEATO has no status under the U.N. with the Geneva conference restrictions on military alliances of the three associated states of Indochina—Viet Nam, Laos and Cambodia.

He asserted the Geneva agreement permits them to join military alliances and take outside military help only if there is a threat to their security.

In his opinion, Menon added, only the U.N. Security Council, by unanimous vote, can decide whether there is a violation of security—and SEATO, he added, cannot be regarded as coming under the U.N. charter.

Brakes Fail, Truck Crashes Into Home

HAVER DE GRACE, Md., Aug. 27 (AP)—A big trailer truck was heading downgrade toward the Susquehanna River Bridge toll booths today when its driver hit the brakes and found he had none.

A companion grabbed a hand-brake and it broke off.

The driver leaned on his air horn as the truck rolled on and bridge workers scattered.

The runaway truck zipped between the booths, clipped another truck, careened out of control for a hundred yards and then crashed into the rear of a home where a father and his two children slept.

Paul Gabbart and his two children, Gary, 12, and Diane, 3, were unhurt, if a bit soaked from water which spewed from a broken water line.

Nina Warren On Road To Recovery Following Operation

SANTA MONICA, Calif., Aug. 27 (AP)—Nina Warren's parents said today she was in "excellent condition" following minor surgery at St. John's Hospital.

The 20-year-old daughter of Chief Justice and Mrs. Earl Warren has been hospitalized since Tuesday. The nature of her ailment was not disclosed.

Miss Warren, affectionately called "Honey Bear," is a UCLA coed. She recovered after a polio attack in 1950 which temporarily paralyzed her legs. Her mother said yesterday that the present ailment "has nothing to do with polio, thank goodness."

Polio Outbreak Hits Cambridge

CAMBRIDGE, Md., Aug. 27 (AP)—One little Cambridge boy died of polio today and another was critically ill with the deadly bulbar type.

They were the second and third cases here within a month.

Allen L. Dennis Jr., 5-year-old son of an accountant at Eastern Shore State Hospital, died as attendants at Cambridge-Maryland hospital were about to load him into an ambulance for transfer to the polio treatment center at City Hospitals in Baltimore.

He had been stricken on Monday and his left arm and leg were paralyzed.

Bobby Dunn, 6-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dunn, was sent along to Baltimore in the ambulance.

He was stricken Wednesday and Dr. Louis S. Welty, acting Dorchester County health officer, said he had the bulbar type of polio. Bulbar polio attacks the nerves high in the spinal column or at the base of the brain and often impairs the brain center which controls breathing.

The Dennis boy is survived by his parents and a year-old brother.

A five-year-old Cambridge boy stricken late in July already is at City Hospitals in Baltimore.

Specialists at the State Health Department in Baltimore expressed a belief the sudden outbreak in Cambridge may stem from the fact there have been so few cases there in recent years immunity to it has generally declined.

McKay Won't Run Again For Office

SALEM, Ore., Aug. 27 (AP) — Douglas McKay, secretary of the interior and former Oregon governor, has removed his name from consideration as a possible opponent to Sen. Wayne Morse, Oregon Independent, two years from now.

He said he will never run for office again and was firmly determined once he ends his Cabinet service, to become "an ordinary citizen."

Goodyear Tire Company, Union Reach Agreement

CLEVELAND, Aug. 27 (AP)—Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. and the CIO United Rubber Workers reached an agreement today granting 23,000 production workers wage increases of at least 6 cents an hour, to end a 51-day strike in the company's 10 plants.

The formula could serve as a wage pattern for most of the industry. One source close to the negotiations said Goodyear's annual payroll would go up about $6,500,000.

The agreement still is subject to ratification by union locals, but officials indicated they expected approval.

In eight plants the increase will be 6 cents. For 1,200 workers at Topeka, Kan., it will be 10 cents, and for about 2,500 at Gadsden, Ala., it will be 8 cents. On an average, the raise will amount to 6½ cents an hour.

The union had asked 7½ cents an hour, plus 5¼ cents for what it termed "interplant inequities" in unspecified plants. The average hourly wage for all Goodyear production workers has been $2.08.

Of the industry's "Big Four" producers, one other has been hit by a strike. The night of Aug. 12 approximately 25,500 union members in eight plants of Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. walked out.

Negotiations are continuing at B. F. Goodrich Co., which employs about 18,000, and at U.S. Rubber Co., which employs about 35,000.

In the case of Firestone, the entire contract has expired. At Goodyear, U.S. Rubber and Goodrich, the contracts do not expire until next year, but negotiations were based on wage reopening clauses.

Stevenson Predicts Democrat Congress

SIOUX CITY, Iowa, Aug. 27 (AP)—Democrats will sweep both houses of Congress in next fall's election, Adlai Stevenson, the party's 1952 presidential candidate, predicted here today.

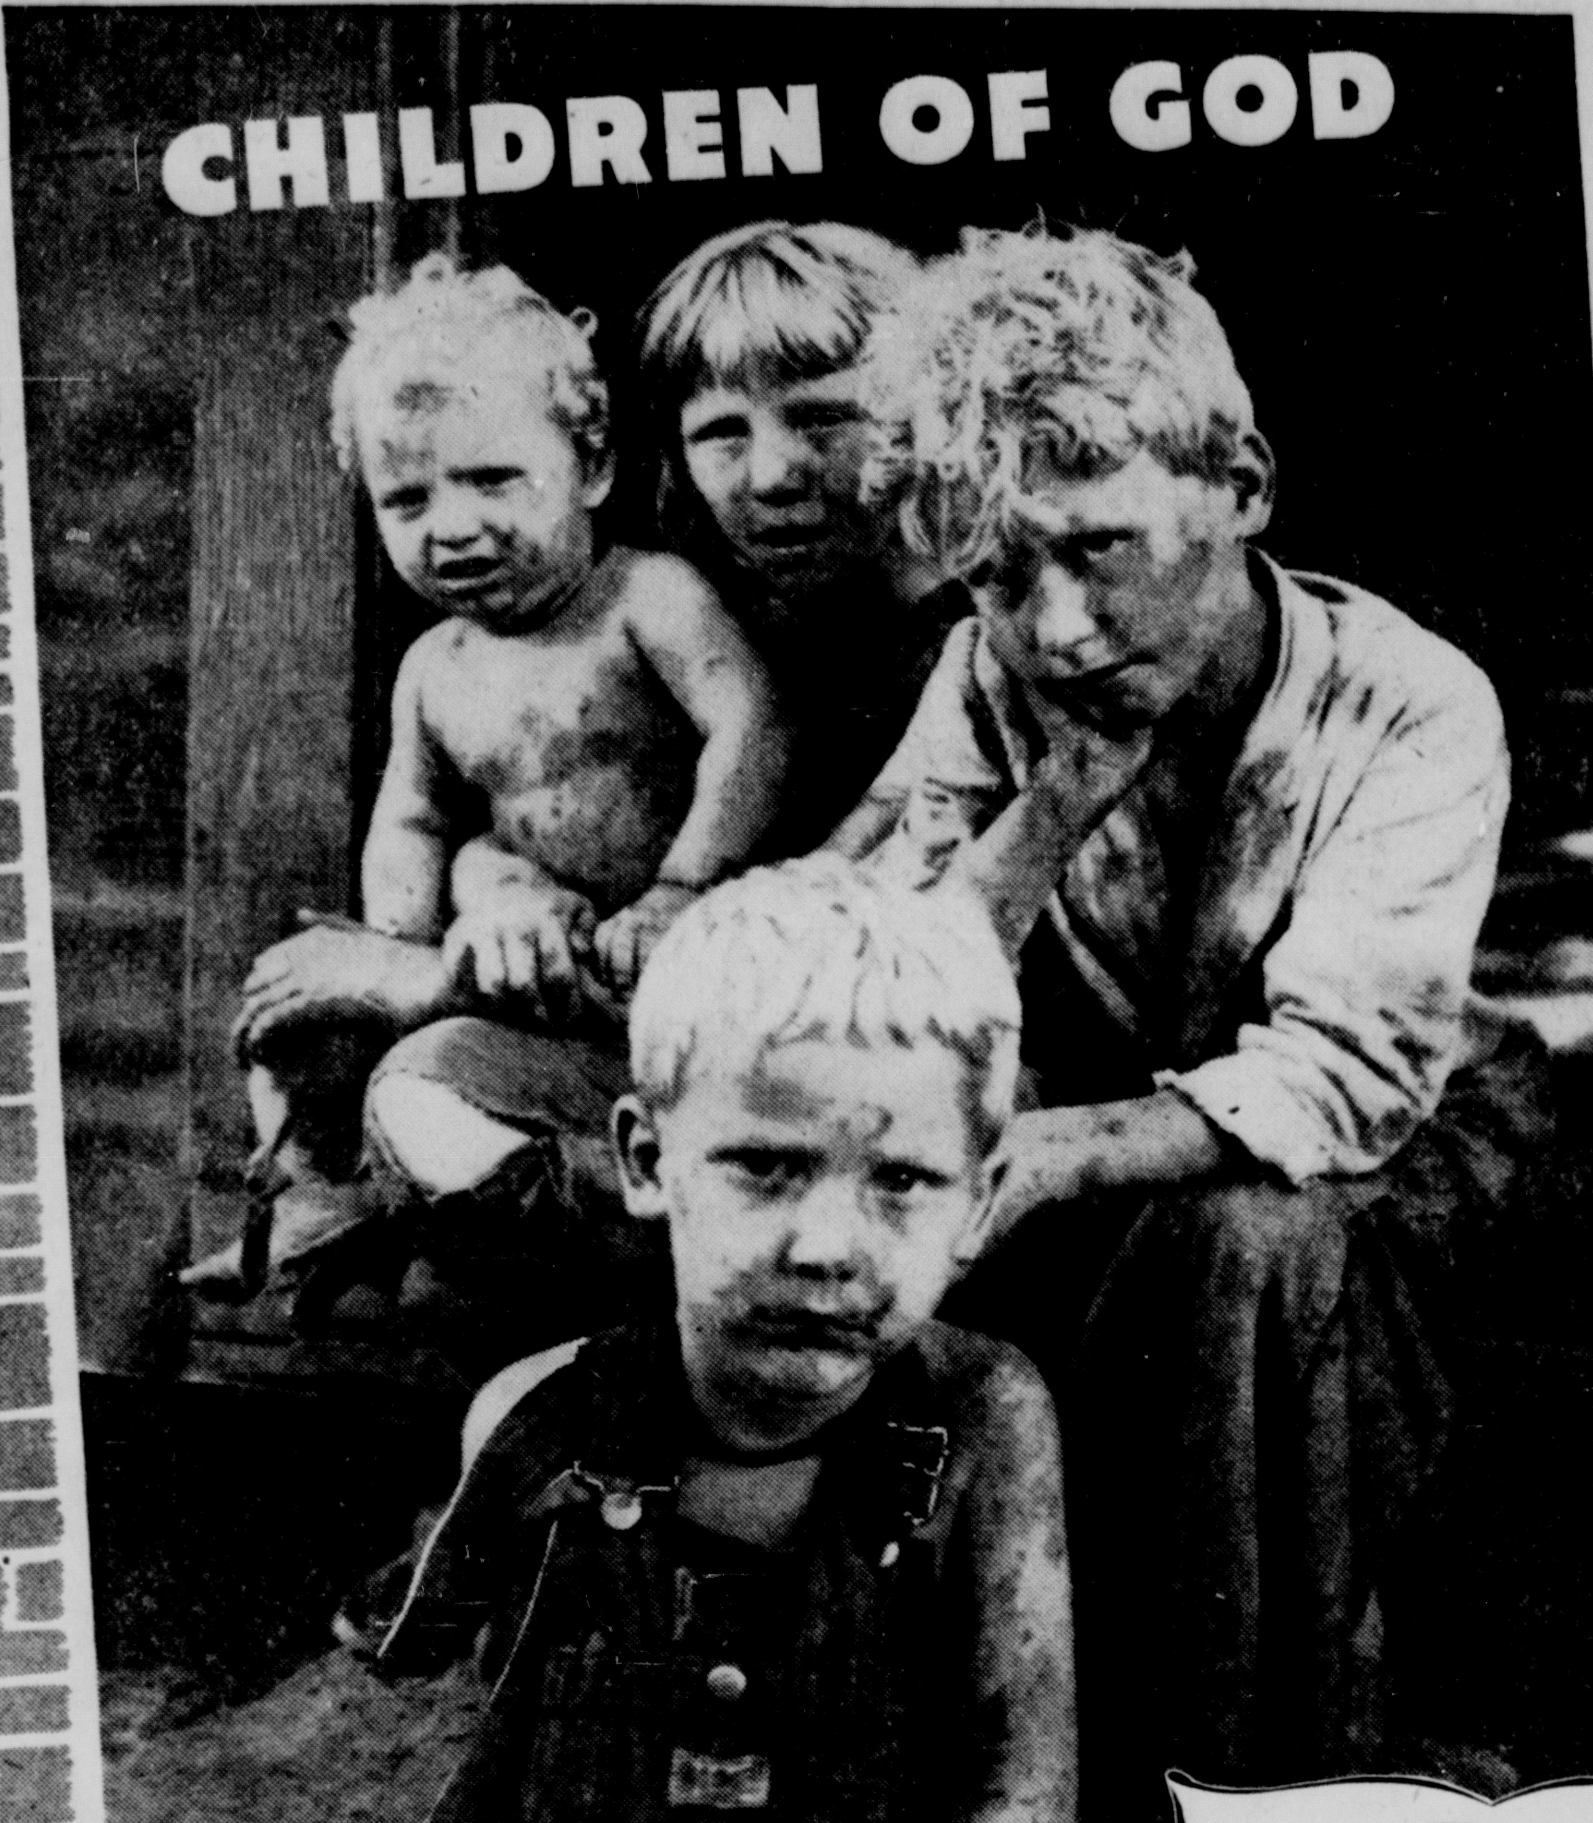
CHILDREN OF GOD



Three things mar the beauty of this picture. DIRT .... POVERTY .... and NEGLECT.

Dirt can be scrubbed away in ten minutes.

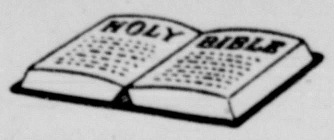
Poverty cannot destroy human character. It has bred some of our greatest men and women.

But neglect—for it there is neither cure nor consolation. It is the shadow of evil days to come.

Delinquency, immorality and crime can nearly always be traced to neglect. And not simply to the physical neglect so evident in this picture. Evil lives stem from the neglect of our children's spiritual needs. There are youngsters with clean faces and fine clothes who are being brought up in the soul-stifling atmosphere of a church-less home.

Our children are children of God. It is their sacred right to learn of their Father, and to see Him honored daily in their homes.

Parents, where will your children be on Sunday morning?



THE CHURCH FOR ALL ... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Lonaconing Men Sentenced On Charges Of Assault

LONACONING—Two residents of Lonaconing received jail sentences this week on separate charges of assault on authorities of that town.

Trial Magistrate Melvin Sloan Thursday sentenced Thomas Coleman to six months in the House of Correction on charges of assault preferred by Quail Wilson, Lonaconing police officer.

The sentence was changed to be served at the County Jail here after Magistrate Sloan was advised by Coleman' wife of medical treatment he is undergoing. Testimony disclosed Coleman had struck Officer Wilson in the mouth while he was being arrested on drunk and disorderly charges.

In passing sentence, Magistrate Sloan noted that it was the second time within three days that he had presided at cases on charges of assault against town officials.

At a hearing Monday night, Joseph Hobel of Lonaconing was given a suspended sentence of 30 days in the County Jail on a charge of assault against Mayor Virgil Alexander.

The outgrowth of another arrest on drunk and disorderly charges, Hobel was said to have shoved Mayor Alexander when he was cautioned against interfering with Officer Wilson in making an arrest.

The jail sentence was suspended, Magistrate Sloan said, on the plea of the mayor who explained that the sentence would also place a hardship on two employes of Hobel's, who would be without work while he was serving the sentence. Hobel was placed on parole for a year, with the customary conditions of good behavior.

Both Hobel and Marshall Barton of Baltimore were fined $25 and costs on separate charges of being drunk and disorderly.

Eager Astronauts Look To The Stars

Science-fiction fans journey vicariously to nebulae thousands of light-years distant, traveling by faster-than-light overdrives or taking advantage of a postulated "space-warp." Their stories are set a few centuries in the future.

For the present, man is still a groundhog, almost, at best able to penetrate only a few miles spaceward while remaining well within the earth's atmosphere. This was somewhat of a sore point with delegates to the International Astronautical Federation, meeting in Innbruck, Austria. They want to set foot on other worlds, not just read about it.

Why? Because they are there, presumably. The chances of finding intelligent life, or even animals, on any planet in our own solar system are close to zero. The prospects of reaching another star and its planetary system, if any, either do not exist or lie very far in the future. The hazards of even a short trip through space — say the 240,000 miles to the moon—can only be guessed at.

One meteor could destroy all life on a space ship. The sun's heat, unshielded by any atmosphere, might be deadly; so might the cold of empty space. Cosmic rays are another lethal factor. Physical and mental hazards, extreme discomforts, almost insoluble practical difficulties abound. Nowhere, presumably, could a man so much as step outside a spaceship without being encased in a far heavier and more elaborate cocoon than any fictional space suit.

But the astronauts are game and eager. They want to get a space platform installed as a satellite of the earth, and they believe it can be done. The problem is to get somebody to put up the billions of dollars the mere attempt would cost. With money enough, the space station might be completed in five years or so, they think.

From a station able to withstand earth's gravitational pull and freed from the friction of earth's atmosphere, the next step might be easier. But the nearest star is about 25,000,000,000,000 miles from here.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Corliss Lamont

I have received, as I believe many others have, a mimeographed statement by Corliss Lamont. Usually these mimeographed handouts hold little that need see the color of print, but this one contains enough to deal with in a column.

Corliss Lamont is the younger son of the late Thomas W. Lamont who rose from a newspaperman, specializing in art, to be the senior member of the banking house of J. P. Morgan. He was, in his way, a genius in public relations, a man of wide reading and knowledge, but cynical toward the world as it was between World War I and World War II. I once spoke to him about his son, Corliss, and he jestingly told me that come the revolution, Corliss will see to it that he is not hanged, which must have been some consolation.

Although the Lamonts had become rich through the job in J. P. Morgan's money shop, they must not be regarded as a conservative family. Certainly Thomas W. Lamont, art critic turned banker, was closer to the ideas of Franklin D. Roosevelt than those of Herbert Hoover. As a matter of fact, since 1929, Wall Street, as a stereotype, having lost confidence in itself during the early years of the depression, tended toward the New Deal to save the country from revolution.

It is not surprising that Myron C. Taylor made his secret deal with John L. Lewis which really gave the CIO its start, without the knowledge or consent of the other members of the steel industry. Myron Taylor represented J. P. Morgan in the United States Steel Corporation, whereas the independent steel companies represented the opposition to Big Steel. Lewis organized the steel industry and in the enormous battles that then occurred within the Iron and Steel Institute, it was the New Deal labor policy that triumphed because of the insistence of the Morgan firm which at that moment was being run by Thomas W. Lamont and an arch-New Dealer, Russell Leffingwell.

Corliss Lamont insists that he is not a Communist and he has written a book to establish that he is a Socialist. His philosophic thinking is Marxist, secular and pragmatic. No matter how you put it, he has been consistently pro-Russian, writing many articles to establish his point of view. He is now in contempt of the Senate for refusing to testify before Senator McCarthy's committee and plans to take his contempt action up to the Supreme Court.

In his release, he notes:

"In voting to cite me for contempt, the United States Senate has unfortunately failed to recognize that I was correctly upholding the First Amendment and the separation of powers in refusing to answer Senator McCarthy's improper questions. It is regrettable that the Senate has decided to stand with McCarthy against the Bill of Rights and the Constitution. In yielding to McCarthy's pressure here, the Senate has missed an excellent opportunity to help curb the excesses of the McCarthy Committee and lay down proper limitations for congressional investigations."

This paragraph seems innocent enough but it raises some interesting issues. Corliss Lamont correctly avoids the Fifth Amendment, because it does not apply. He refused to answer questions, concerning what the committee believed was a pro-Communist record, on the grounds of the First Amendment which deals with freedom of speech, of the press and of assembly.

By taking this position, Lamont shifts the issue from himself to a general principle in American life. He even raises questions that will affect the bill passed by Congress outlawing the Communist party. The issue is: if an American favors the concepts of Marxism-Leninism without joining a conspiracy to make these concepts effective, or if an American is pro-Russian when no declared war exists with Russia, as he might be pro-French or pro-Greek, may his rights to speak, write, and assembly be impaired by any law under our Constitution?

This is a serious question because the Supreme Court might well decide that an overt act is essential. Unless, therefore, when the Lamont case comes to the courts, the government can establish an overt act, possibly in the nature of a conspiracy, Corliss Lamont may get off with a decision declaring him to be a windbag but not a conspirator. This would give the Communists a propaganda advantage throughout the world and give the American Communists a new umbrella for their activities.

Clifton Webb Assumes Jovian Mantle, Dispenses Exclusives From Olympus

(While Drew Pearson is on a brief vacation, the Washington Merry-Go-Round is being written by several guest columnists, today's being the well-known star, Clifton Webb.)

By Clifton Webb

WASHINGTON—There is a time-ridden canard that no comedian can happily enter the actors' Valhalla or bear to see the last curtain rung down unless he has — for one performance, anyway — wowed them in Winsocki (I believe that is the phrase) with his own personal version of the tearful and tragic hamlet.

This, I maintain, is nonsense.

I am never happier than when playing Clifton Webb in the role of Clifton Webb. And as to my ability to replace the dauntless Drew Pearson for a day, let there be no trepidation. The doubts of the faint-hearted I can demolish as I once did a brash producer who suggested, after one of my first Mr. Belvedere pictures, that Webb would no longer be speaking to small fry now that he had achieved this enormous success.

"My dear man," I replied icily, "I have always been a success. One more will not unsettle me."

I am not a modest man, as someone once said (probably I, myself), and yet I must confess that there is an ego-tingling element of piquancy in the knowledge that I can assume, temporarily, at least, the cloud-topped and Jovian mantle of a syndicated pundit dispensing last-minute exclusives from a hot seat on Olympus.

I can see the advantages, but without altogether desiring them. Not permanently, anyway. From what I recall of my Greek mythology, Jove was a man with ample power, but with a certain quota of headaches also. I do not enjoy headaches. I do not enjoy hot seats, either, nor all the concomitants of power, but sometimes they are unavoidable.

Take, for illustration, a certain picture I have recently completed at 20th Century-Fox called "Woman's World." It is a modern fable dealing with that phenomenon of our times, the contemporary American woman. It tells how three wives, June Allyson, Lauren Bacall and Arlene Dahl, influence the selection from among their respective husbands—Cornel Wilde, Fred MacMurray and Van Heflin—of a man to fill a $125,000 post in my motorcar company.

Many Other Talents

In my role of god-like puppeteer it would have been so easy to succumb to the Belvederean legend and throw oatmeal in their faces, — as I once did to an impertent mite in "Sitting Pretty." But then this would have violated a high resolve to demonstrate Webb's many other unique thespian talents. Instead, the attitude I chose was Olympian and even Webbian. Humor, sympathy and justice; the light touch, the airy gesture. A chance to needle my bewildered puppets, but still to enjoy their bon mots.

For instance, there is a scene in the picture where I have brought together, at a cocktail party in New York, the three wives and the three husbands (tax deductible, of course), as well as some of the other officials of my company, also tax deductible. The wives and the husbands are on trial and they know it. And yet June Allyson, frightened and nervous that her husband will get the job, makes a slight faux pas because of one martini too many. Hiccups, unexpected and uninhibited, overcome her. Her inner struggle plays a counterpoint to my welcoming speech.

"Let me suggest," I say to the assemblage, "that when we are together we will have a much better time if we all forget that I am president of our company. (A smile towards the women.) I want particularly for you young ladies to enjoy this visit. And that can best be accomplished by just being yourselves."

Miss Allyson responds with another explosive hiccup.

"Thank you,," I say, with a bow and a smile towards Miss Allyson. "That's just what I mean."

Webbian, pure Webbian.

All Things Possible

Naturally, only the pervading genius of Webb, to whose screen personality all things are possible, keeps this shining assemblage and its shiny surroundings out of the realm of fairy tales. I play Jove, I look down from Olympus, even as Mr. Drew Pearson. If I were not enchanted with the role and did not feel competent to portray it, I would not be doing it. I enjoy my sublease on the mountain top, as who wouldn't?

But then, of course, there comes the end of the page, the path down the mountain. Jove departs and Webb becomes Webb again. As I once said somewhere (I invariably remember my best lines), "If you want audiences to have an appetite for more of you, always leave them hungry."

Did I hear a hiccup? Thank you very much, that's just what I mean.

White House Attitude Toward Election Is Criticized

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON—A congressional campaign is so utterly different from a presidential campaign that persons familiar with the strategies of political warfare are frankly amazed at the unrealistic attitude of the White House toward the coming elections for Congress in November.

The popularity of a president has little or nothing to do with the outcome. The local popularity of the Republican or Democratic nominee in each district or state has a great deal to do with the ultimate result, but mostly the campaign turns on the voter's feeling for a political party—his past affiliations and the grievances that may have made him turn away from his party. Voters are party-minded in a congressional campaign. The Eisenhower name will not be on the ballot, and only the Republican and Democratic party emblems will confront the voters in the polling booths, together with candidates' names which are largely unfamiliar to the average citizen.

Emotions Influence Voters

No president has ever been able to transfer his own popularity or prestige or the weight of his own political strength to the nominees of his party in a congressional campaign. But an aggressive president who fights hard against the opposition party, and doesn't spend his energies fighting members of his own party, can help sway voters toward his party label.

The evidence from past campaigns, as privately appraised by party leaders in their postmortems after victory or defeat, points up the fact that the voters generally vote 'against things" rather than for affirmative virtues. This means that often a party in power is continued in office not so much for what it has done by because the people are not yet ready to go back to the party they threw out—they are still "against" the party they previously defeated.

Voters are influenced by emotions and the pocketbook appeal. Even if they are somewhat dissatisfied on economic issues, however, they will often be swayed by emotional issues much as corruption in office or Communist infiltration or war. What the Republican strategists have failed to do is to build up the prestige of the Republican party and to attack the record of the Democrats in the previous 20 years. Mr. Eisenhower has soft-pedaled the attack and has said he wants to let bygones be bygones—a generous but naive attitude which is not being reciprocated by the Democrats, who are already reminding the voters that they consider the Republican party to be a party of unemployment and depression.

Have Negative Habit

It is a new confidence in the Republican party label that voters have to feel, as they need to be reminded and assured that there will be no return to the mistakes of the Truman administration. But the White House has given little inspiration to the party workers, and it is they and their organizations which get out the vote in congressional elections. It could be that the Democrats will win Congress this time, not by virtue of anything they will offer to do, but by persuading people to vote "against the failures of the Republican party," as the attack is being vigorously presented by former Speaker Rayburn and others.

The negative habit is well documented in the political history of America. The people voted "against the high cost of living" in 1910, when they elected a Democratic House of Representatives in the middle of a Republican president's term despite a splendid record of constructive legislation by Congress. The people were "against war" in 1916 when they re-elected a Democratic president on a peace platform, but in 1918 they voted in a Republican majority in both houses in protest against wartime irritations and against the action of the same president for having entered World War I.

Again, in 1920 the people voted "against the Democrats" on the war issue in resentment against American intervention in European affairs, and the same attitude—called "isolationism" then—continued to hurt the Democrats in 1924 and 1928. But four years later the Democrats began swinging toward "isolationism" themselves, and Franklin Roosevelt, in order to be nominated by the Democrats in 1932, had to repudiate the proposal for entry into the League of Nations which he had espoused as a vice presidential candidate in 1920.

The tendency to vote "against" was noticeable in 1932, when the people voted "against the Hoover depression." In 1936, 1940 and 1944, the negative attitude of the voters toward the Republican party was so intense on account of the memories of the depression that an oratorical reminder on the stump of the unemployment issue was enough to discredit the Republican candidates.

Taft Could Have Won

In 1946 ,the country voted "against meat controls" by the Democratic administration and elected a Republican Congress. Mr. Truman in 1948, using an attack strategy of the "give 'em hell" variety, succeeded in convincing the country it should vote "against the do-nothing Republican Congress," and he won. In 1942, the people voted "against Korea, communism and corruption." Mr. Eisenhower was a satisfactory and popular alternative, but Taft could have won, too, on the negative tide that was rolling then.

This time the Republicans, led by the President, should have been strongly on the attack, reminding the voters of the issues which caused them to forsake the Democratic party two years ago. But, instead, the Eisenhower administration has avoided the attack strategy altogether and is relying on what it calls a "positive" program. It clings to the illusion that voters read high-brow speeches about the technical aspects of a legislative record. This is one way to forfeit an election.

Children's Recurring Tummy Aches Relatively Common

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Periodic bouts of abdominal pain are relatively common in children and the psysician, as well as the parents, is puzzled when no particular cause can be found. These incidents may be carry-overs from the colicky stage and usually stem from one of various minor disorders. Many youngsters have several attacks each year.

A-10-year-old was bothered along this line. Her mother always could tell when pain was present because the child stopped playing, became pale, and wanted to stay in bed. When asked where it hurt she pointed to the umbilical region. Distress was not severe enough to make her cry or disturb her rest but she lost appetite and vomited occasionally.

The duration of pain varies from a few minutes to several days. It is unrelated to food and may begin any time of the day. When the young victim is examined from head to foot, the majority are found to be in good health. Since the usual examination of the abdomen is negative, most of these youngsters are not X-rayed or subjected to a battery of laboratory tests.

On the other hand, when this is done, peptic ulcer, bowel polyps, or infection of the kidney or liver is found in 20 per cent. Now and then X-ray discloses an intestine that is twisted or partially obstructed by a band or an adhesion. Another 20 per cent have pinworms. In the remainder, pain apparently stems from a minor disturbance that is not serious.

Youngsters who are constipated need a laxative and should be trained to develop regularity. Allergy to food is suspected whenever distress develops after eating certain edibles. Occasionally abdominal pain is traced to infection in the nose or throat and discomfort results from secondary enlargement of the abdominal lymph glands or from spread of infection to the intestine producing a condition analogous to intestinal flu.

Abdominal epilepsy and migraine are rare causes of abdominal pain. Individuals with migraine, for example, may suffer from headache on one occasion and stomach ache on another. Occasionally the two pains occur together.

When abdominal pain arises during periods of fatigue, apprehension, resentment, or unhappiness, a disturbance of the nervous system may be responsible. At times anxiety is brought about by family quarrels and pain persists until the parents calm down. These youngsters need reassurance, love, and understanding.

A sore abdomen should not be considered lightly. There is a possibility that the repeated complaints of these children will lead to the old "Wolf! Wolf!" effect on parents. This would be disastrous if the child developed appendicitis or an equally serious intestinal disorder.

Try And Stop Me

Leo Durocher, manager of the New York Giants, was probably the most accomplished needler — or "bench jockey" — in big league baseball. He could get victims so angry with sarcastic barbs that they sometimes came charging at him in the dugout to do him bodily injury . . . A few springs back, the Giants were playing a pre-season exhibition game at West Point. The Cadet Corps began to ride Leo as he paced up and down the coaching box at third base. "Hey, Durocher," roared one leather-lunged upperclassman, "how did a runt like you ever sneak into the big leagues?" Leo, they say, silenced the uproar with a single retort. He just hollered back, "My congressman appointed me!"

Eager Astronauts Look To The Stars

Science-fiction fans journey vicariously to nebulae thousands of light-years distant, traveling by faster-than-light overdrives or taking advantage of a postulated "space-warp." Their stories are set a few centuries in the future.

For the present, man is still a groundhog, almost, at best able to penetrate only a few miles spaceward while remaining well within the earth's atmosphere. This was somewhat of a sore point with delegates to the International Astronautical Federation, meeting in Innbruck, Austria. They want to set foot on other worlds, not just read about it.

Why? Because they are there, presumably. The chances of finding intelligent life, or even animals, on any planet in our own solar system are close to zero. The prospects of reaching another star and its planetary system, if any, either do not exist or lie very far in the future. The hazards of even a short trip through space — say the 240,000 miles to the moon—can only be guessed at.

One meteor could destroy all life on a space ship. The sun's heat, unshielded by any atmosphere, might be deadly; so might the cold of empty space. Cosmic rays are another lethal factor. Physical and mental hazards, extreme discomforts, almost insoluble practical difficulties abound. Nowhere, presumably, could a man so much as step outside a spaceship without being encased in a far heavier and more elaborate cocoon than any fictional space suit.

But the astronauts are game and eager. They want to get a space platform installed as a satellite of the earth, and they believe it can be done. The problem is to get somebody to put up the billions of dollars the mere attempt would cost. With money enough, the space station might be completed in five years or so, they think.

From a station able to withstand earth's gravitational pull and freed from the friction of earth's atmosphere, the next step might be easier. But the nearest star is about 25,000,000,000,000 miles from here.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Corliss Lamont

I have received, as I believe many others have, a mimeographed statement by Corliss Lamont. Usually these mimeographed handouts hold little that need see the color of print, but this one contains enough to deal with in a column.

Corliss Lamont is the younger son of the late Thomas W. Lamont who rose from a newspaperman, specializing in art, to be the senior member of the banking house of J. P. Morgan. He was, in his way, a genius in public relations, a man of wide reading and knowledge, but cynical toward the world as it was between World War I and World War II. I once spoke to him about his son, Corliss, and he jestingly told me that come the revolution, Corliss will see to it that he is not hanged, which must have been some consolation.

Although the Lamonts had become rich through the job in J. P. Morgan's money shop, they must not be regarded as a conservative family. Certainly Thomas W. Lamont, art critic turned banker, was closer to the ideas of Franklin D. Roosevelt than those of Herbert Hoover. As a matter of fact, since 1929, Wall Street, as a stereotype, having lost confidence in itself during the early years of the depression, tended toward the New Deal to save the country from revolution.

It is not surprising that Myron C. Taylor made his secret deal with John L. Lewis which really gave the CIO its start, without the knowledge or consent of the other members of the steel industry. Myron Taylor represented J. P. Morgan in the United States Steel Corporation, whereas the independent steel companies represented the opposition to Big Steel. Lewis organized the steel industry and in the enormous battles that then occurred within the Iron and Steel Institute, it was the New Deal labor policy that triumphed because of the insistence of the Morgan firm which at that moment was being run by Thomas W. Lamont and an arch-New Dealer, Russell Leffingwell.

Corliss Lamont insists that he is not a Communist and he has written a book to establish that he is a Socialist. His philosophic thinking is Marxist, secular and pragmatic. No matter how you put it, he has been consistently pro-Russian, writing many articles to establish his point of view. He is now in contempt of the Senate for refusing to testify before Senator McCarthy's committee and plans to take his contempt action up to the Supreme Court.

In his release, he notes:

"In voting to cite me for contempt, the United States Senate has unfortunately failed to recognize that I was correctly upholding the First Amendment and the separation of powers in refusing to answer Senator McCarthy's improper questions. It is regrettable that the Senate has decided to stand with McCarthy against the Bill of Rights and the Constitution. In yielding to McCarthy's pressure here, the Senate has missed an excellent opportunity to help curb the excesses of the McCarthy Committee and lay down proper limitations for congressional investigations."

This paragraph seems innocent enough but it raises some interesting issues. Corliss Lamont correctly avoids the Fifth Amendment, because it does not apply. He refused to answer questions, concerning what the committee believed was a pro-Communist record, on the grounds of the First Amendment which deals with freedom of speech, of the press and of assembly.

By taking this position, Lamont shifts the issue from himself to a general principle in American life. He even raises questions that will affect the bill passed by Congress outlawing the Communist party. The issue is: if an American favors the concepts of Marxism-Leninism without joining a conspiracy to make these concepts effective, or if an American is pro-Russian when no declared war exists with Russia, as he might be pro-French or pro-Greek, may his rights to speak, write, and assembly be impaired by any law under our Constitution?

This is a serious question because the Supreme Court might well decide that an overt act is essential. Unless, therefore, when the Lamont case comes to the courts, the government can establish an overt act, possibly in the nature of a conspiracy, Corliss Lamont may get off with a decision declaring him to be a windbag but not a conspirator. This would give the Communists a propaganda advantage throughout the world and give the American Communists a new umbrella for their activities.

White House Attitude Toward Election Is Criticized

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON—A congressional campaign is so utterly different from a presidential campaign that persons familiar with the strategies of political warfare are frankly amazed at the unrealistic attitude of the White House toward the coming elections for Congress in November.

The popularity of a president has little or nothing to do with the outcome. The local popularity of the Republican or Democratic nominee in each district or state has a great deal to do with the ultimate result, but mostly the campaign turns on the voter's feeling for a political party—his past affiliations and the grievances that may have made him turn away from his party. Voters are party-minded in a congressional campaign. The Eisenhower name will not be on the ballot, and only the Republican and Democratic party emblems will confront the voters in the polling booths, together with candidates' names which are largely unfamiliar to the average citizen.

Emotions Influence Voters

No president has ever been able to transfer his own popularity or prestige or the weight of his own political strength to the nominees of his party in a congressional campaign. But an aggressive president who fights hard against the opposition party, and doesn't spend his energies fighting members of his own party, can help sway voters toward his party label.

The evidence from past campaigns, as privately appraised by party leaders in their postmortems after victory or defeat, points up the fact that the voters generally vote 'against things' rather than for affirmative virtues. This means that often a party in power is continued in office not so much for what it has done because the people are not yet ready to go back to the party they threw out—they are still "against" the party they previously defeated.

Voters are influenced by emotions and the pocketbook appeal. Even if they are somewhat dissatisfied on economic issues, however, they will often be swayed by emotional issues much as corruption in office or Communist infiltration or war. What the Republican strategists have failed to do is to build up the prestige of the Republican party and to attack the record of the Democrats in the previous 20 years. Mr. Eisenhower has soft-pedaled the attack and has said he wants to let bygones be bygones—a generous but naive attitude which is not being reciprocated by the Democrats, who are already reminding the voters that they consider the Republican party to be a party of unemployment and depression.

Have Negative Habit

It is a new confidence in the Republican party label that voters have to feel, as they need to be reminded and assured that there will be no return to the mistakes of the Truman administration. But the White House has given little inspiration to the party workers, and it is they and their organizations which get out the vote in congressional elections. It could be that the Democrats will win Congress this time, not by virtue of anything they will offer to do, but by persuading people to vote "against the failures of the Republican party," as the attack is being vigorously presented by former Speaker Rayburn and others.

The negative habit is well documented in the political history of America. The people voted "against the high cost of living" in 1910, when they elected a Democratic House of Representatives in the middle of a Republican president's term despite a splendid record of constructive legislation by Congress. The people were "against war" in 1916 when they re-elected a Democratic president on a peace platform, but in 1918 they voted in a Republican majority in both houses in protest against wartime irritations and against the action of the same president for having entered World War I.

Again, in 1920 the people voted "against the Democrats" on the war issue in resentment against American intervention in European affairs, and the same attitude—called "isolationism" then—continued to hurt the Democrats in 1924 and 1928. But four years later the Democrats began swinging toward "isolationism" themselves, and Franklin Roosevelt, in order to be nominated by the Democrats in 1932, had to repudiate the proposal for entry into the League of Nations which he had espoused as a vice presidential candidate in 1920.

The tendency to vote "against" was noticeable in 1932, when the people voted "against the Hoover depression." In 1936, 1940 and 1944, the negative attitude of the voters toward the Republican party was so intense on account of the memories of the depression that an oratorical reminder on the stump of the unemployment issue was enough to discredit the Republican candidates.

Taft Could Have Won

In 1946, the country voted "against meat controls" by the Democratic administration and elected a Republican Congress. Mr. Truman in 1948, using an attack strategy of the "give 'em hell" variety, succeeded in convincing the country it should vote "against the do-nothing Republican Congress," and he won. In 1942, the people voted "against Korea, communism and corruption." Mr. Eisenhower was a satisfactory and popular alternative, but Taft could have won, too, on the negative tide that was rolling then.

This time the Republicans, led by the President, should have been strongly on the attack, reminding the voters of the issues which caused them to forsake the Democratic party two years ago. But, instead, the Eisenhower administration has avoided the attack strategy altogether and is relying on what it calls a "positive" program. It clings to the illusion that voters read high-brow speeches about the technical aspects of a legislative record. This is one way to forfeit an election.

Baering Down On The News

General Mark Clark sure sounded off like a Met Soprano with a new sponsor. He said the U. N. meant as much as a fourth leg on a milk stool.

That's high-angle criticism bracketed for political demolition. We know that Mark knows his pearl onions. Truth is U. N. hasn't had any more effect than a start through a shatter-proof lorgnette.

Children's Recurring Tummy Aches Relatively Common

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Periodic bouts of abdominal pain are relatively common in children and the psysician, as well as the parents, is puzzled when no particular cause can be found. These incidents may be carry-overs from the colicky stage and usually stem from one of various minor disorders. Many youngsters have several attacks each year.

A-10-year-old was bothered along this line. Her mother always could tell when pain was present because the child stopped playing, became pale, and wanted to stay in bed. When asked where it hurt she pointed to the umbilical region. Distress was not severe enough to make her cry or disturb her rest but she lost appetite and vomited occasionally.

The duration of pain varies from a few minutes to several days. It is unrelated to food and may begin any time of the day. When the young victim is examined from head to foot, the majority are found to be in good health. Since the usual examination of the abdomen is negative, most of these youngsters are not X-rayed or subjected to a battery of laboratory tests.

On the other hand, when this is done, peptic ulcer, bowel polyps, or infection of the kidney or liver is found in 20 per cent. Now and then X-ray discloses an intestine that is twisted or partially obstructed by a band or an adhesion. Another 20 per cent have pinworms. In the remainder, pain apparently stems from a minor disturbance that is not serious.

Youngsters who are constipated need a laxative and should be trained to develop regularity. Allergy to food is suspected whenever distress develops after eating certain edibles. Occasionally abdominal pain is traced to infection in the nose or throat and discomfort results from secondary enlargement of the abdominal lymph glands or from spread of infection to the intestine producing a condition analogous to intestinal flu.

Abdominal epilepsy and migraine are rare causes of abdominal pain. Individuals with migraine, for example, may suffer from headache on one occasion and stomach ache on another. Occasionally the two pains occur together.

When abdominal pain arises during periods of fatigue, apprehension, resentment, or unhappiness, a disturbance of the nervous system may be responsible. At times anxiety is brought about by family quarrels and pain persists until the parents calm down. These youngsters need reassurance, love, and understanding.

A sore abdomen should not be considered lightly. There is a possibility that the repeated complaints of these children will lead to the old "Wolf! Wolf!" effect on parents. This would be disastrous if the child developed appendicitis or an equally serious intestinal disorder.

Leo Durocher, manager of the New York Giants, was probably the most accomplished needler — or "bench jockey" — in big league baseball. He could get victims so angry with sarcastic barbs that they sometimes came charging at him in the dugout to do him bodily injury . . . A few springs back, the Giants were playing a pre-season exhibition game at West Point. The Cadet Corps began to ride Leo as he paced up and down the coaching box at third base. "Hey, Durocher," roared one leather-lunged upperclassman, "how did a runt like you ever sneak into the big leagues?" Leo, they say, silenced the uproar with a single retort. He just hollered back, "My congressman appointed me!"

Morgan Hands Detroit Team 16th Shutout

Bob Feller Is Victim Of Fatal Boot; Tribe's Lead Now 3½ Games

NEW YORK, Aug. 27 (AP) — The New York Yankees trimmed Cleveland's American League lead to 3½ games tonight by whipping the Detroit Tigers 4-0 on a six-hitter by Tom Morgan. The shutout was the 16th of the season against the Tigers who slipped into the second division.

The biggest cheer of the night from the crowd of 21,724 came in the eighth inning when Cleveland's 3-2 loss to Washington was posted on the scoreboard.

The Yankees picked up a run in the first on singles by Hank Bauer and Joe Collins plus an infield out, scored again in the fourth when Irv Noren led off with his 11th homer and wrapped it up with two in the seventh.

Manager Freddie Hutchinson of the Tigers was tossed out of the game in the seventh by Umpire Frank Umont in an argument over the last Yankee run.

Willie Miranda, Bauer and Collins singled with one out in the seventh to account for one run. Then Mickey Mantle grounded to first baseman Walt Dropo who threw home trying to catch Bauer sliding in from third.

Umont ruled Bauer safe, bringing roars of protest from catcher Frank House, losing pitcher George Zuvernik and Hutchinson.

While the rhubarb flared, Bauer walked back quietly and touched the plate to make the run official.

Feller Is Loser

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27 (AP)—The Washington Senators won a stirring 10-inning ball game from the league leading Cleveland Indians tonight, 3-2, with Bob Feller the victim of a fatal boot by outfielder Dave Philley.

The Indians' loss narrowed their edge over the New York Yankees to 3½ games as the Yankees' beat Detroit tonight 4-0.

The Senators' winning run came as the climax to a pitching duel between Feller and Johnny Schmitz, who defeated the Indians for the first time in his major league career.

Feller got the first two Senators in the 10th with ease but Pete Runnels came through with a single to left for the first solid Washington hit since the second inning.

Ex-Indian Mickey Vernon ran the count to 3 and 2 and then swatted a long single into the right field corner. Runnels was off with the pitch and in picking up the ball, Philley kicked it around just long enough to allow Runnels to score.

Yankelevitz's Homer Beats Pirates, 5-4

Kenny Yankelevitz's home run in the top of the 7th inning enabled the Senators to edge the Pirates last night and win the championship of the Dapper Dan Little Baseball League championship at Penn Avenue Field. The score was 5-4.

The Pirates forced the game into an extra inning by tying the score in the sixth with a two-run uprising. In the 7th, however, Yankelevitz blasted one of Freddie Eichner's pitches far over the left fielder's head for a home run to settle the issue.

Jack Cranor, Senators' twirler, yielded only four hits and fanned 16 Pirates. His record for the season is 5-1. Freddie Eichner of the Pirates struck out 10.

Shortstop Bobby Cannon of the Senators saved the game in the last of the 7th when he speared a line drive for the final out with third base occupied.

Yankelevitz hit a homer and single and Dick Peck banged a double and single to account for four of the winners' seven hits. Donnie Lewis blasted a pair of two-baggers for the pirates.

Chicago Defeats Phils In Twelfth

Gene Bakers Bunt Scores Winning Run

CHICAGO, Aug. 27 (AP) — Gene Baker's bunt single scored Hal Jeffcoat, making his first appearance in the outfield this season, with the winning run as the Chicago Cubs edged Philadelphia 4-3 in a 12 inning thriller today. Jeffcoat scored from third base as Baker bunted along the third base line with two out in the third overtime inning.

The Cubs' winning marker was the result of Jeffcoat's single with two out, and Hal's successful dash to third as Bobby Morgan fumbled Walker Cooper's pinch grounder. Then came Baker's bunt for the winning run—and the Cubs' eighth hit to saddle Murry Dickson, who went the route, with his sixteenth loss.

The Philadelphia outfield had only three putouts for the entire game, Del Ennis having two in left and Richie Ashburn one in center. The Phillies had none during the first eight innings, Ennis getting the first on Hank Sauer's leadoff fly to open the ninth.

Immediately after this Ernie Banks, Chicago shortstop, tied the score at 3-3 by driving his No. 19 homer onto the left field catwalk.

Chicago scored a run in the second, and gained a 2-0 lead with another run in the seventh as Randy Jackson scored on Dee Fondy's single.

The Phillies moved ahead in the eighth when Ashburn and Smokey Burgess singled ahead of Gran Hamner's No. 11 homer, another blast onto the left field catwalk.

When Johnny Wyrostek followed with his second double, starter Johnny Klippstein went out in favor of rookie Bill Tremel, who put out the fire.

David E. Mowen Freed Of Horse Doping Charge

Mistake Admitted By State Chemist

HAGERSTOWN, Aug. 27 (AP)—A Hagerstown horseman, David E. Mowen, was freed of charges of doping a horse today with a dramatic disclosure that a chemist had made a mistake.

Dr. John Herculson, chemist representing the Maryland Racing Commission in testing urine and saliva of thoroughbreds for the past seven years, discovered he had made charges against the wrong horse—and consequently the wrong trainer.

The disclosure came after Dr. Herculson interrupted a hearing in Mowen's case and told Commission Chairman D. Eldred Rinehart and Albert A. Shuger, commission member, that he would like to speak to them in private.

After a conference, Rinehart announced that due to a clerical error, Mowen was erroneously charged.

Rinehart Apologizes

Rinehart apologized to the Hagerstown horseman and told him: "An injustice has been done to you through your suspension and I am sorry it happened. You and your horse are completely exonerated and I wish to repeat that the commission is deeply sorry."

Mowen was suspended Aug. 23 after stewards reported to the commission that a urinalysis of Shilly Shally, who won the seventh race Aug. 20 at the Hagerstown track, showed traces of a drug stimulant of the amethetamine type.

Dr. Herculson discovered today that the sample was taken, not from Mowen's horse, but from Dr. Wright, owned by Mrs. N. L. Brown and winner of the eighth race the same day.

Brown Is Suspended

Trainer Norman L. Brown was ordered suspended and his case was referred to the commission for a hearing.

Herculson explained that a labeling tag is made out for each sample. One section is attached to the sample and the other part of the tag is given to the State steward.

The mistake in the case of Shilly Shally was uncovered when it was found the two portions of the tag did not measure up in number or in perforations.

After hearing of the case, the Hagerstown stewards ordered Brown suspended and his horse's purse for that day was ordered re-distributed.

The stewards also formally announced the restring of Shilly Shally's purse and the lifting of Mowen's suspension.

Morgan Hands Detroit Team 16th Shutout

Bob Feller Is Victim Of Fatal Boot; Tribe's Lead Now 3½ Games

NEW YORK, Aug. 27 (AP) — The New York Yankees trimmed Cleveland's American League lead to 3½ games tonight by whipping the Detroit Tigers 4-0 on a six-hitter by Tom Morgan. The shutout was the 16th of the season against the Tigers who slipped into the second division.

The biggest cheer of the night from the crowd of 21,724 came in the eighth inning when Cleveland's 3-2 loss to Washington was posted on the scoreboard.

The Yankees picked up a run in the first on singles by Hank Bauer and Joe Collins plus an infield out, scored again in the fourth when Irv Noren led off with his 11th homer and wrapped it up with two in the seventh.

Manager Freddie Hutchinson of the Tigers was tossed out of the game in the seventh by Umpire Frank Umont in an argument over the last Yankee run.

Willie Miranda, Bauer and Collins singled with one out in the seventh to account for one run. Then Mickey Mantle grounded to first baseman Walt Dropo who threw home trying to catch Bauer sliding in from third.

Umont ruled Bauer safe, bringing roars of protest from catcher Frank House, losing pitcher George Zuvernik and Hutchinson.

While the rhubarb flared, Bauer walked back quietly and touched the plate to make the run official.

Feller Is Loser

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27 (AP)—The Washington Senators won a stirring 10-inning ball game from the league leading Cleveland Indians tonight, 3-2, with Bob Feller the victim of a fatal boot by outfielder Dave Philley.

The Indians' loss narrowed their edge over the New York Yankees to 3½ games as the Yankees' beat Detroit tonight 4-0.

The Senators' winning run came as the climax to a pitching duel between Feller and Johnny Schmitz, who defeated the Indians for the first time in his major league career.

Feller got the first two Senators in the 10th with ease but Pete Runnels came through with a single to left for the first solid Washington hit since the second inning.

Ex-Indian Mickey Vernon ran the count to 3 and 2 and then swatted a long single into the right field corner. Runnels was off with the pitch and in picking up the ball, Philley kicked it around just long enough to allow Runnels to score.

The Pirates forced the game into an extra inning by tying the score in the sixth with a two-run uprising. In the 7th, however, Yankelevitz blasted one of Freddie Eichner's pitches far over the left fielder's head for a home run to settle the issue.

Chicago Defeats Phils In Twelfth

Gene Bakers Bunt Scores Winning Run

CHICAGO, Aug. 27 (AP) — Gene Baker's bunt single scored Hal Jeffcoat, making his first appearance in the outfield this season, with the winning run as the Chicago Cubs edged Philadelphia 4-3 in a 12 inning thriller today. Jeffcoat scored from third base as Baker bunted along the third base line with two out in the third overtime inning.

The Cubs' winning marker was the result of Jeffcoat's single with two out, and Hal's successful dash to third as Bobby Morgan fumbled Walker Cooper's pinch grounder. Then came Baker's bunt for the winning run—and the Cubs' eighth hit to saddle Murry Dickson, who went the route, with his sixteenth loss.

The Philadelphia outfield had only three putouts for the entire game, Del Ennis having two in left and Richie Ashburn one in center. The Phillies had none during the first eight innings, Ennis getting the first on Hank Sauer's leadoff fly to open the ninth.

Immediately after this Ernie Banks, Chicago shortstop, tied the score at 3-3 by driving his No. 19 homer onto the left field catwalk.

Chicago scored a run in the second, and gained a 2-0 lead with another run in the seventh as Randy Jackson scored on Dee Fondy's single.

The Phillies moved ahead in the eighth when Ashburn and Smokey Burgess singled ahead of Gran Hamner's No. 11 homer, another blast onto the left field catwalk.

When Johnny Wyrostek followed with his second double, starter Johnny Klippstein went out in favor of rookie Bill Tremel, who put out the fire.

David E. Mowen Freed Of Horse Doping Charge

Mistake Admitted By State Chemist

HAGERSTOWN, Aug. 27 (AP)—A Hagerstown horseman, David E. Mowen, was freed of charges of doping a horse today with a dramatic disclosure that a chemist had made a mistake.

Dr. John Herculson, chemist representing the Maryland Racing Commission in testing urine and saliva of thoroughbreds for the past seven years, discovered he had made charges against the wrong horse—and consequently the wrong trainer.

The disclosure came after Dr. Herculson interrupted a hearing in Mowen's case and told Commission Chairman D. Eldred Rinehart and Albert A. Shuger, commission member, that he would like to speak to them in private.

After a conference, Rinehart announced that due to a clerical error, Mowen was erroneously charged.

Rinehart Apologizes

Rinehart apologized to the Hagerstown horseman and told him: "An injustice has been done to you through your suspension and I am sorry it happened. You and your horse are completely exonerated and I wish to repeat that the commission is deeply sorry."

Mowen was suspended Aug. 23 after stewards reported to the commission that a urinalysis of Shilly Shally, who won the seventh race Aug. 20 at the Hagerstown track, showed traces of a drug stimulant of the amethetamine type.

Dr. Herculson discovered today that the sample was taken, not from Mowen's horse, but from Dr. Wright, owned by Mrs. N. L. Brown and winner of the eighth race the same day.

Brown Is Suspended

Trainer Norman L. Brown was ordered suspended and his case was referred to the commission for a hearing.

Herculson explained that a labeling tag is made out for each sample. One section is attached to the sample and the other part of the tag is given to the State steward.

The mistake in the case of Shilly Shally was uncovered when it was found the two portions of the tag did not measure up in number or in perforations.

After hearing of the case, the Hagerstown stewards ordered Brown suspended and his horse's purse for that day was ordered re-distributed.

The stewards also formally announced the restring of Shilly Shally's purse and the lifting of Mowen's suspension.

Cass Hit On Head, A's Walloped, 11-0

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 27 (AP) — Two triples and Johnny Groth's sixth home run produced eight runs in a big third inning tonight as the Chicago White Sox trounced the Philadelphia Athletics 11-0 with veteran reliever Harry Dorish going the distance for his fifth win of the season.

Third baseman Cass Michaels was struck in the head by a pitched ball in the uproarious third. The ball, thrown by Marion Fricano, hit the White Sox infielder in the jaw. He was taken to Presbyterian Hospital where attendants said he was suffering from a possible fractured skull. His condition was reported as "not serious."

Dorish started things in the third with a single. Chico Carrasquel walked and Nellie Fox singled to right to load the bases. Minnie Minoso tripled to right, clearing the bases.

George Kell forced Minoso at home. Batts walked and Rivera brought them home with a triple to right. After Fricano hit Michaels, Groth pasted the home run.

By C. V. BURNS

WHEN Allegany plays Beall on the night of Friday, Sept. 17 the Campers will have the honor of opening the local football season for the first time in 11 years.

The last time that Allegany was the first local school to open a grid season at the stadium was on Friday, Sept. 17, 1943.

Walter L. Bowers was coaching the Campers then. Somerset provided the opposition and the locals won, 7-6 when Jim Hines scored a touchdown and Walter Davis kicked the point from placement to pull the game out of the fire in the final period.

LaSalle played Fort Hill in the 1953 opener and the Sentinels won, 7-0. From 1944 through 1952 Fort Hill figured in five lid-lifters and LaSalle four.

BILL HAHN of Fort Hill and Jonathan Paugh of Moorefield are in their 17th year of coaching football.

Paugh spent his first four years at Mathias, commencing in 1938. For the past 12 seasons he has coached at Moorefield High. Hahn was at Piedmont (W. Va.) High in 1935, 1936, 1937; Spencer in 1938 and 1939; Ridgeley in 1941 and 1942 and has completed nine seasons as Fort Hill mentor.

Both Hahn and Paugh hail from Hambleton, Tucker county, and were graduated from Parsons High School.

NEXT WEEK Westport Post Baltimore will be striving to bring the American Legion national junior baseball championship to Maryland for the third time since the tournaments were inaugurated in 1926.

Fort Cumberland Post of this city was Maryland's last national champion in 1934. The local aggregation of 20 years ago swept through tournaments at Bethlehem, Pa., and Gastonia, N. C., and on August 30 Wayne Triplett beat New Orleans, 6-1, in the "rubber" game of a three-game series at Chicago to give Cumberland the Junior World Series.

Maryland's first national champions came from B. & O. Post of Baltimore in 1930.

Westport Post is among four teams taking part in the double elimination nationals to be held at Yakima, Wash., September 1 to 5.

The Baltimoreans have won nine straight since dropping the opener to Morris Frock Post, Hagerstown, in the state tourney at College Park.

HAGERSTOWN'S mutuel handle hit $3,098,964 yesterday at the close of the 9th day of the 10-day session.

The Hub City won't hit the all-time high of $3,899,779 for a 10-day meeting, established in 1953, but the daily average of close to $350,000 should please the officials of the Hagerstown Fair Association.

BELLE'S BABY, 3-year-old filly, won the Cumberland Purse, feature race on Cumberland Day at Hagerstown.

Belle's Baby is out of Belle Moose, the 9-year-old mare, who dropped dead in the winner's circle after romping home first at the Cumberland Fair Grounds two years ago. The mare toppled over and died immediately from an internal hemorrhage.

This is regarded as one of the most unusual happenings in the 30-year history of racing at the local half mile oval.

Belle Moose is buried at Fairgo near the cow barns.

JAMES W. GOLDSWORTHY, secretary of the Potomac Valley Conference, which comprises nearby West Virginia High Schools, informs us that at the spring meeting of the conference it was decided to award a runner-up trophy to a school winning second place in each sport providing that school had not been a winner in that sport in the previous five years.

Football, baseball and basketball are the sports covered by the rule.

WHAT are America's top dogs? Every dog lover has his own opinion, but John Stuart Marvin, noted authority on dogs and contributing editor of Argosy goes out on a limb by picking what he believes are the top ten in the September issue of the magazine.

Martin picks Chesapeake, Beagle, Pointer, Cathound, Golden Retriever, Border Collie, Coon Hound, Springer Spaniel, Setter and Labrador Retriever.

Not everybody will agree with Mr. Martin, but, as he says, these are dogs with the blood of champions in them and then something extra; a touch of greatness that every dog lover will recognize.

SIX CUMBERLANDERS appear on the University of Maryland's varsity roster for the 1954 season. They are Tom McLuckie and Ronald Athey, guards; Gene Alderton, center; Lynn Beightol, quarterback, and Harold Hull and John McVicker, halfbacks.

McLuckie and Beightol are lettermen. Athey, Alderton, Hull and McVicker are sophomores. Beightol is a junior and McLuckie, senior.

Ray Blackburn, Keyser junior and tackle, is among the lettermen on Jim Tatum's 1954 squad.

McLuckie is the heaviest of the seven men listed. He scales 215. Blackburn tips the beam at 210.

CUMBERLANDERS, incidentally, hold four football records at College Park.

Don Decker hung up a pair in 1951 when he scored 41 points after touchdown for the season and made six against West Virginia.

Tommy Mont, now assistant coach, set a pair of marks in 1942. He is credited with most passes attempted, 127, and the most completed—66.

DO YOU KNOW how a fielder can make a double play without touching the ball?

Here's the answer.

If a runner is hit by an infield fly while off base, both the runner and the batter are out and the putouts are credited to the fielder nearest the play who normally would have made the catch.

Meister Loses To Palmer In 39-Hole Test

Bob Sweeny Defeats Dr. Lenczyk; Finals Set Today At 9:30

By WILL GRIMSLEY

DETROIT, Aug. 27 (AP) — Young Arnold Palmer of Cleveland, playing on borrowed time, nailed a birdie on the 39th hole to win an overtime battle from fellow townsman Ed Meister today and go into the finals of the 54th National Amateur Golf Championship against millionaire sportsman Robert Sweeny.

Meister, who missed a six-foot putt on the 36th and a three-footer on the 37th which would have given him the match, ran into an old jinx on the third extra hole where he hit a four-wood into some trees. In the morning round he hit three successive trees on the same hole.

Palmer, 24-year-old son of a Latrobe, Pa., pro, pumped two good shots to the green of the 510-yard par five hole and then two-putted from 45 feet.

Sweeny Beats Lenczyk

Approximately an hour earlier, Sweeny, a graying, debonair socialite with a satin-and-silk swing, posted an easy 5 and 4 triumph over Dr. Ted Lenczyk, shy little dentist from Newington, Conn.

So tomorrow it's Sweeny, 43, against the ex-Coast Guardsman from Pennsylvania's steel country —19 years his junior—for one of the sport's greatest prizes. Teeoff time is 9:30 a.m. and 2 p.m. (EST).

The bitterly-fought Palmer-Meister match was knotted seven times and Meister held the lead only twice—each time by just one hole —before the two went down the wire to one of the longest matches in the history of the tournament.

Ironically, the putter which saved Meister in the scrambling match finally proved his undoing.

The husky Cleveland publisher, playing in his 13th National Amateur, sank a curling 20-footer for a deuce to keep the match even at the 31st after Palmer had hit a four-iron against the flag, three feet from the pin. Then a miraculous 25-foot putt on the 34th for another birdie two enabled him to again even the match after taking a double bogey six on the previous hole.

Dramatics On 36th

Most of the dramatics were concentrated on the 36th hole where, with the match all square, Palmer drove into the rough and sent his second shot soaring over the green into some thick rough. Meanwhile, Meister, down the middie, laced a four-iron shot six feet from the pin.

This looked like certainly the end for Palmer, but he rallied with a brilliant recovery chip to within six feet, and Meister, obviously rattled, left his putt hanging on the lip. So it went to extra holes.

Hout Tossers Annex Series

Hout Construction Company won the "rubber" game of its three-game series with Andy's Liquor Store yesterday at East Side Field and advanced to the playoff finals in the City Rec Softball League. The score was 4-0.

Eddie Downton obtained the only hit yielded by Dick Rank and that came in the fifth inning with two out. Rank fanned six, and mowed down the side in strikes in the 7th inning. Yankelevitz and Rank shared four of Hout's seven hits.

Dale Merritt, Hout's left fielder, made a nice catch of Bobby Williams' long drive to contribute the fielding gem.

Hout's qualified for a championship series with Jimmie's Market, the other playoff finalist. Score:

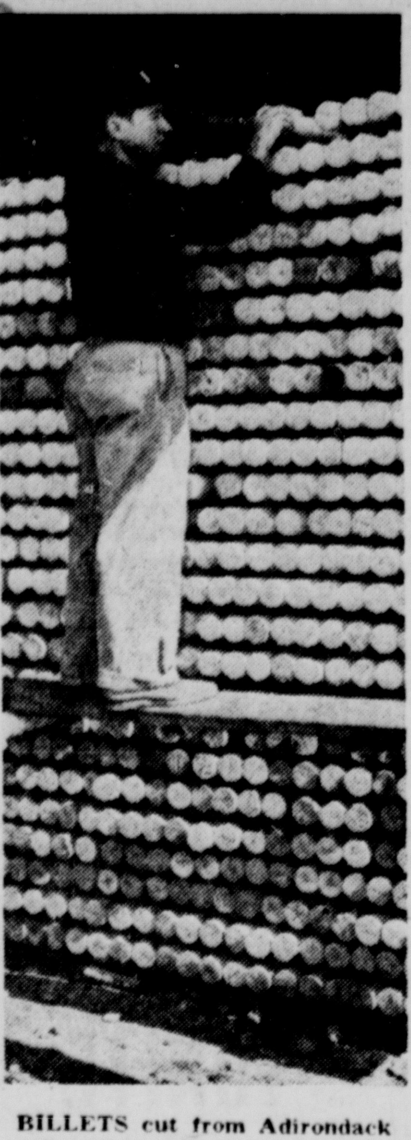
HOME RUNS GROW ON TREES AND HERE'S HOW

HOME RUNS grow on trees. After 50 years of growth the ashwood tree is felled in a forest in New York state.



BILLETS cut from Adirondack ashwood are piled for seasoning.

FAMOUS bats in Cooperstown, N. Y., Baseball Hall of Fame. Sid Keener, ex-sportswriter, is museum director.

STAR Gil Hodges of Dodgers examines bat as Hal Schumacher, ex-Giant pitcher now a bat manufacturing company official, looks on.

DIPPED in conditioning bath, bats are air-dried.

MAJOR LEAGUE baseball bats are "grown" on trees. It's a particular kind of hardwood grown in forest belts in the lower Adirondacks, Catskills and Southern Tier of New York state. It's a coincidence that prized home run bats should be found so near to Baseball's Hall of Fame at Cooperstown, N.Y., official birthplace of the American game. It takes 40 to 50 years of growth to produce a single bat of big league quality. The wood used is northern white ash, preferably of second growth. There are several bat manufacturers, with three leading producers getting all their ashwood from New York state and the fourth, the largest, in Kentucky, getting half its ashwood from New York state and half from the state of Pennsylvania. (International)

Great Captain Captures 74th Saratoga Cup

Jim Fitzsimmons, 80, Saddles 10th Winner

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., Aug. 27 (AP)—Sunny Jim Fritzsimmons, 80-year-old dean of American trainers, and Eddie Arcaro, the redoubtable master of the saddle, combined their racing strategy admirably here today in connection with the triumph of Ogden Phipps' Great Captain in the 74th running of the Saratoga Cup. For Fitzsimmons, it was the old gent's 10th winner of the stake, a record for a single fixture, and the third for Phipps.

While Arcaro had won the cup only once before, on Cochise in 1950, the little Cincinnati-Born pro put forth his usual masterful touch of rating on the son of War Admiral, keeping him on top all the way over the trying distance of a mile and 6 furlongs. It has always been said Arcaro rides with a "clock in his head." That statement goes unquestioned because Great Captain required only a clocking of 3:02 2/5 in which to beat Mrs. John Payson Adams' South American, Impulsivo by 5 full lengths. J. M. Roebling's Kazmaier was third, a length and a half farther back, and four ahead of Bassanio, teamed with Great Captain. The last horse to finish was Laudy Lawrence's French-bred Ararat II. Fair Brother was the lone withdrawal.

Great Captain earned a purse of $11,075 from the gross of $16,500, upping his total for the year to $19,905. This was his second win in 9 starts this season. He had not looked so good in his two previous starts here, beaten 14 lengths by Cold Command in the Saratoga Handicap, and then 12 by Expletive. But he was the "big horse" in the cup, though many thought Bassanio, ridden by Ted Atkinson, was the huskier of the pair. Bassanio never got close. He is unpredictable.

The Fitz-trained entry paid $3.50 and $2.20. Impulsivo was $2.60. There was no show betting. The race was run in crisp, cool weather, and a crowd of 13,771 passed through the turnstiles, a gain of 1293 over a year ago.

Bosox Edge Orioles In 3-2 Contest

Lepcio's Sacrifice Fly Decides Game

BOSTON, Aug. 27 (AP)—Ted Lepcio's sacrifice fly sent home Harry Agganis with the winning run in the sixth inning today as the Boston Red Sox defeated the Baltimore Orioles 3-2 behind the eight hit pitching of Russ Kemmerer and Ellis Kinder.

Baltimore second baseman Bob Young's two-base error on Grady Hatton's grounder which went through him following Agganis' single set up Lepcio's fly in the sixth. Sammy White's two run homer into the left field screen in the second inning, his 11th of the season, accounted for Boston's other tally.

Kemmerer got his third victory against three losses though he wasn't around at the finish.

Kinder came on in the seventh inning, after Cal Abrams had walked and gone to third on Eddie Waitkus' single, to face Vern Stephens whose singles in the first and fifth had driven in Baltimore's runs. Old Reliable got Stephens to pop to second and Clint Courtney to fly to right.

The Orioles threatened again in the eighth on singles by Billy Hunter, his third, and pinchhitter Dick Kryhoski but Abrams flied deep to Jackie Jensen in center. On Kryhoski's hit, rightfielder Jim Piersall, starting his first game in 11 days, apparently reinjured his throwing arm and was replaced by Karl Olson.

Lou Kretlow was the losing pitcher, getting his 10th loss compared to three victories.

Holman Ordered Reinstated On CCNY Faculty

Ouster Is Reversed By Dr. L. A. Wilson

ALBANY, N.Y., Aug. 27 (AP)—The New York State education commissioner today ordered basketball coach Nat Holman reinstated on the faculty of the City College of New York.

Dr. Lewis A. Wilson reversed Holman's ouster by the New York City Board of Higher Education from his $9,000-a-year job as associate professor hygiene.

Holman, whose teams had won the national laurels for CCNY, was suspended as coach in 1952. Commissioner Wilson's order applied only to his position as associate professor of hygiene.

In the wake of the 1951 basketball bribe scandals, Holman, 57, was charged with neglect of duty, conduct unbecoming a teacher and failure to warn CCNY of conditions in the sport. He denied the charges.

Last May Holman told newsmen he had not decided whether to resume coaching if he were reinstated.

In his decision, Wilson said:

"While I fully understand the Board of Higher Education's desire to insure the highest standards at its institution, in my opinion the records in this case with respect to appellant, upon all the facts, is insufficient to warrant his dismissal.

"It must be remembered that appellant served the institution well for 37 years, not only with no prior criticism but with great praise."

Wilson directed that Holman be reinstated with pay from Nov. 18, 1952, less any monies earned from other employment during the period.

Schenectady Wins 1954 Little League World Championship

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., Aug. 27 (AP)—Billy Masucci, a 12-year-old righthander, pitched himself in and out of jams with a blazing fast ball today as Schenectady, N. Y., hammered out a 7-5 victory over Colton, Calif., to win the 1954 Little League world championship.

The win, 10th in tournament competition for the New Yorkers, completed a comeback duplicated only once before in Little League World Series play.

Last year the Schenectady All-Stars were defeated in the final by Birmingham, Ala.

Masucci, son of Schenectady Little League Coach Louis Masucci, was in trouble much of the way in walking eight Colton batters. But his fast ball accounted for nine strikeouts—most of them in the clutch.

In addition, the Schenectady pitcher hit his team's only home run with one on in the first inning to give the New Yorkers a 2-0 lead. They never fell behind through the rest of the regulation six-inning contest.

Ashburn Plays 701st Consecutive Contest

CHICAGO, Aug. 27 (AP) — Richie Ashburn, Philadelphia Phillies centerfield, played his 701st consecutive National League game today. Ashburn's streak started June 7, 1950, and is 122 games away from the National League record of 822 established by Gus Suhr of Pittsburgh between 1931 and 1937. The late Lou Gehrig holds the major league record of 2,130 games with the New York Yankees.

Trophies For 2nd

By C. V. BURNS

WHEN Allegany plays Beall on the night of Friday, Sept. 17 the Campers will have the honor of opening the local football season for the first time in 11 years.

The last time that Allegany was the first local school to open a grid season at the stadium was on Friday, Sept. 17, 1943.

Walter L. Bowers was coaching the Campers then, Somerset provided the opposition and the locals won, 7-6 when Jim Hines scored a touchdown and Walter Davis kicked the point from placement to pull the game out of the fire in the final period.

LaSalle played Fort Hill in the 1953 opener and the Sentinels won, 7-0. From 1944 through 1952 Fort Hill figured in five lid-lifters and LaSalle four.

BILL HAHN of Fort Hill and Jonathan Paugh of Moorefield are in their 17th year of coaching football.

Paugh spent his first four years at Mathias, commencing in 1938. For the past 12 seasons he has coached at Moorefield High. Hahn was at Piedmont (W. Va.) High in 1935, 1936, 1937; Spencer in 1938 and 1939; Ridgeley in 1941 and 1942 and has completed nine seasons as Fort Hill mentor.

Both Hahn and Paugh hail from Hambleton, Tucker county, and were graduated from Parsons High School.

NEXT WEEK Westport Post Baltimore will be striving to bring the American Legion national junior baseball championship to Maryland for the third time since the tournaments were inaugurated in 1926.

Fort Cumberland Post of this city was Maryland's last national champion in 1934. The local aggregation of 20 years ago swept through tournaments at Bethlehem, Pa., and Gastonia, N. C., and on August 30 Wayne Triplett beat New Orleans, 6-1, in the "rubber" game of a three-game series at Chicago to give Cumberland the Junior World Series.

Maryland's first national champions came from B. & O. Post of Baltimore in 1930.

Westport Post is among four teams taking part in the double elimination nationals to be held at Yakima, Wash., September 1 to 5.

The Baltimoreans have won nine straight since dropping the opener to Morris Frock Post, Hagerstown, in the state tourney at College Park.

HAGERSTOWN'S mutuel handle hit $3,098,964 yesterday at the close of the 9th day of the 10-day session.

The Hub City won't hit the all-time high of $3,899,779 for a 10-day meeting, established in 1953, but the daily average of close to $350,000 should please the officials of the Hagerstown Fair Association.

BELLE'S BABY, 3-year-old filly, won the Cumberland Purse, feature race on Cumberland Day at Hagerstown.

Belle's Baby is out of Belle Moose, the 9-year-old mare, who dropped dead in the winner's circle after romping home first at the Cumberland Fair Grounds two years ago. The mare toppled over and died immediately from an internal hemorrhage.

This is regarded as one of the most unusual happenings in the 30-year history of racing at the local half mile oval.

. Belle Moose is buried at Fairgo near the cow barns.

JAMES W. GOLDSWORTHY, secretary of the Potomac Valley Conference, which comprises nearby West Virginia High Schools, informs us that at the spring meeting of the conference it was decided to award a runner-up trophy to a school winning second place in each sport providing that school had not been a winner in that sport in the previous five years.

Football, baseball and basketball are the sports covered by the rule.

WHAT are America's top dogs? Every dog lover has his own opinion, but John Stuart Marvin, noted authority on dogs and contributing editor of Argosy goes out on a limb by picking what he believes are the top ten in the September issue of the magazine.

Martin picks Chesapeake, Beagle, Pointer, Cathound, Golden Retriever, Border Collie, Coon Hound, Springer Spaniel, Setter and Labrador Retriever.

Not everybody will agree with Mr. Martin, but, as he says, these are dogs with the blood of champions in them and then something extra; a touch of greatness that every dog lover will recognize.

SIX CUMBERLANDERS appear on the University of Maryland's varsity roster for the 1954 season. They are Tom McLuckie and Ronald Athey, guards; Gene Alderton, center; Lynn Beightol, quarterback, and Harold Hull and John McVicker, halfbacks.

McLuckie and Beightol are lettermen. Athey, Alderton, Hull and McVicker are sophomores. Beightol is a junior and McLuckie, senior.

Ray Blackburn, Keyser junior and tackle, is among the lettermen on Jim Tatum's 1954 squad.

McLuckie is the heaviest of the seven men listed. He scales 215. Blackburn tips the beam at 210.

CUMBERLANDERS, incidentally, hold four football records at College Park.

Don Decker hung up a pair in 1951 when he scored 41 points after touchdown for the season and made six against West Virginia.

Tommy Mont, now assistant coach, set a pair of marks in 1942. He is credited with most passes attempted, 127, and the most completed—66.

DO YOU KNOW how a fielder can make a double play without touching the ball?

Here's the answer.

If a runner is hit by an infield fly while off base, both the runner and the batter are out and the putouts are credited to the fielder nearest the play who normally would have made the catch.

Meister Loses To Palmer In 39-Hole Test

Bob Sweeny Defeats Dr. Lenczyk; Finals Set Today At 9:30

By WILL GRIMSLEY

DETROIT, Aug. 27 (AP) — Young Arnold Palmer of Cleveland, playing on borrowed time, nailed a birdie on the 39th hole to win an overtime battle from fellow townsman Ed Meister today and go into the finals of the 54th National Amateur Golf Championship against millionaire sportsman Robert Sweeny.

Meister, who missed a six-foot putt on the 36th and a three-footer on the 37th which would have given him the match, ran into an old jinx on the third extra hole where he hit a four-wood into some trees. In the morning round he hit three successive trees on the same hole.

Palmer, 24-year-old son of a Latrobe, Pa., pro, pumped two good shots to the green of the 510-yard par five hole and then two-putted from 45 feet.

Sweeny Beats Lenczyk

Approximately an hour earlier, Sweeny, a graying, debonair socialite with a satin-and-silk swing, posted an easy 5 and 4 triumph over Dr. Ted Lenczyk, shy little dentist from Newington, Conn.

So tomorrow it's Sweeny, 43, against the ex-Coast Guardsman from Pennsylvania's steel country—19 years his junior—for one of the sport's greatest prizes. Teeoff time is 9:30 a.m. and 2 p.m. (EST).

The bitterly-fought Palmer-Meister match was knotted seven times and Meister held the lead only twice—each time by just one hole—before the two went down the wire to one of the longest matches in the history of the tournament.

Ironically, the putter which saved Meister in the scrambling match finally proved his undoing.

The husky Cleveland publisher, playing in his 13th National Amateur, sank a curling 20-footer for a deuce to keep the match even at the 31st after Palmer had hit a four-iron against the flag, three feet from the pin. Then a miraculous 25-foot putt on the 34th for another birdie two enabled him to again even the match after taking a double bogey six on the previous hole.

Dramatics On 36th

Most of the dramatics were concentrated on the 36th hole where, with the match all square, Palmer drove into the rough and sent his second shot soaring over the green into some thick rough. Meanwhile, Meister, down the middle, laced a four-iron shot six feet from the pin.

This looked like certainly the end for Palmer, but he rallied with a brilliant recovery chip to within six feet, and Meister, obviously rattled, left his putt hanging on the lip. So it went to extra holes.

Hout Tossers Annex Series

Hout Construction Company won the "rubber" game of its three-game series with Andy's Liquor Store yesterday at East Side Field and advanced to the playoff finals in the City Rec Softball League. The score was 4-0.

Eddie Downton obtained the only hit yielded by Dick Rank and that came in the fifth inning with two out. Rank fanned six, and mowed down the side in strikes in the 7th inning. Yankelevitz and Rank shared four of Hout's seven hits.

Dale Merritt, Hout's left fielder, made a nice catch of Bobby Williams' long drive to contribute the fielding gem.

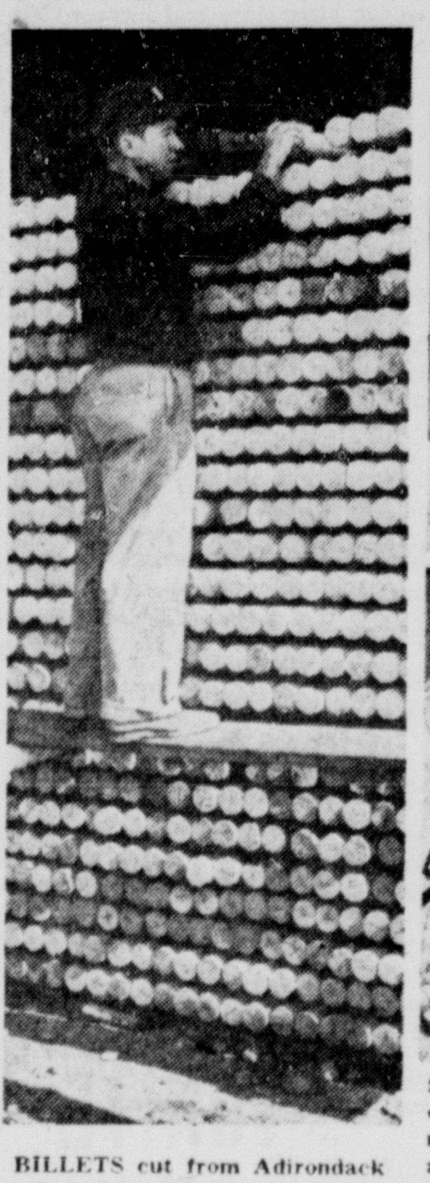
Hout's qualified for a championship series with Jimmie's Market, the other playoff finalist. Score:

HOUT	040 000 0—4	7	1
ANDY'S	000 000 0—0	1	5

D. Rank and Marshall Yankelevitz. Barrett and Clark.

HOME RUNS GROW ON TREES AND HERE'S HOW

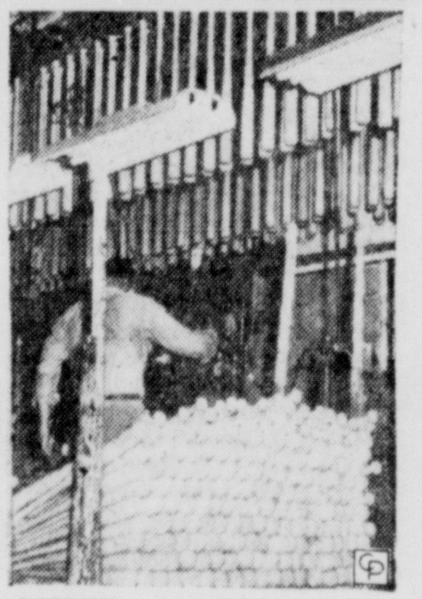
HOME RUNS grow on trees. After 50 years of growth the ashwood tree is felled in a forest in New York state.



BILLETS cut from Adirondack ashwood are piled for seasoning.

FAMOUS bats in Cooperstown, N. Y., Baseball Hall of Fame. Sid Keener, ex-sportswriter, is museum director.

STAR Gil Hodges of Dodgers examines bat as Hal Schumacher, ex-Giant pitcher now a bat manufacturing company official, looks on.



DIPPED in conditioning bath, bats are air-dried.

MAJOR LEAGUE baseball bats are "grown" on trees. It's a particular kind of hardwood grown in forest belts in the lower Adirondacks, Catskills and Southern Tier of New York state. It's a coincidence that prized home run bats should be found so near to Baseball's Hall of Fame at Cooperstown, N.Y., official birthplace of the American game. It takes 40 to 50 years of growth to produce a single bat of big league quality. The wood used is northern white ash, preferably of second growth. There are several bat manufacturers, with three leading producers getting all their ashwood from New York state and the fourth, the largest, in Kentucky, getting half its ashwood from New York state and half from the state of Pennsylvania. (International)

Great Captain Captures 74th Saratoga Cup

Jim Fitzsimmons, 80, Saddles 10th Winner

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., Aug. 27 (AP)—Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons, 80-year-old dean of American trainers, and Eddie Arcaro, the redoubtable master of the saddle, combined their racing strategy admirably here today in connection with the triumph of Ogden Phipps' Great Captain in the 74th running of the Saratoga Cup. For Fitzsimmons, it was the old gent's 10th winner of the stake, a record for a single fixture, and the third for Phipps.

While Arcaro had won the cup only once before, on Cochise in 1950, the little Cincinnati-Born pro put forth his usual masterful touch of rating on the son of War Admiral, keeping him on top all the way over the trying distance of a mile and 6 furlongs. It has always been said Arcaro rides with a "clock in his head." That statement goes unquestioned because Great Captain required only a clocking of 3:02 2/5 in which to beat Mrs. John Payson Adams' South American, Impulsivo by 5 full lengths. J. M. Roebling's Kazmaier was third, a length and a half farther back, and four ahead of Bassanio, teamed with Great Captain. The last horse to finish was Laudy Lawrence's French-bred Ararat II. Fair Brother was the lone withdrawal.

Great Captain earned a purse of $11,075 from the gross of $16,500, upping his total for the year to $19,905. This was his second win in 9 starts this season. He had not looked so good in his two previous starts here, beaten 14 lengths by Cold Command in the Saratoga Handicap, and then 12 by Expletive. But he was the "big horse" in the cup, though many thought Bassanio, ridden by Ted Atkinson, was the huskier of the pair. Bassanio never got close. He is unpredictable.

The Fitz-trained entry paid $3.50 and $2.20. Impulsivo was $2.60. There was no show betting. The race was run in crisp, cool weather, and a crowd of 13,771 passed through the turnstiles, a gain of 1293 over a year ago.

Bosox Edge Orioles In 3-2 Contest

Lepcio's Sacrifice Fly Decides Game

BOSTON, Aug. 27 (AP)—Ted Lepcio's sacrifice fly sent home Harry Agganis with the winning run in the sixth inning today as the Boston Red Sox defeated the Baltimore Orioles 3-2 behind the eight hit pitching of Russ Kemmerer and Ellis Kinder.

Baltimore second baseman Bob Young's two-base error on Grady Hatton's grounder which went through him following Agganis' single set up Lepcio's fly in the sixth. Sammy White's two run homer into the left field screen in the second inning, his 11th of the season, accounted for Boston's other tally.

Kemmerer got his third victory against three losses though he wasn't around at the finish.

Kinder came on in the seventh inning, after Cal Abrams had walked and gone to third on Eddie Waitkus' single, to face Vern Stephens whose singles in the first and fifth had driven in Baltimore's runs. Old Reliable got Stephens to pop to second and Clint Courtney to fly to right.

The Orioles threatened again in the eighth on singles by Billy Hunter, his third, and pinchhitter Dick Kryhoski but Abrams flied deep to Jackie Jensen in center. On Kryhoski's hit, rightfielder Jim Piersall, starting his first game in 11 days, apparently reinjured his throwing arm and was replaced by Karl Olson.

Lou Kretlow was the losing pitcher, getting his 10th loss compared to three victories.

Holman Ordered Reinstated On CCNY Faculty

Ouster Is Reversed By Dr. L. A. Wilson

ALBANY, N.Y., Aug. 27 (AP)—The New York State education commissioner today ordered basketball coach Nat Holman reinstated on the faculty of the City College of New York.

Dr. Lewis A. Wilson reversed Holman's ouster by the New York City Board of Higher Education from his $9,000-a-year job as associate professor hygiene.

Holman, whose teams had won the national laurels for CCNY, was suspended as coach in 1952. Commissioner Wilson's order applied only to his position as associate professor of hygiene.

In the wake of the 1951 basketball bribe scandals, Holman, 57, was charged with neglect of duty, conduct unbecoming a teacher and failure to warn CCNY of conditions in the sport. He denied the charges.

Last May Holman told newsmen he had not decided whether to resume coaching if he were reinstated.

In his decision, Wilson said:

"While I fully understand the Board of Higher Education's desire to insure the highest standards at its institution, in my opinion the records in this case with respect to appellant, upon all the facts, is insufficient to warrant his dismissal.

"It must be remembered that appellant served the institution well for 37 years, not only with no prior criticism but with great praise."

Wilson directed that Holman be reinstated with pay from Nov. 18, 1952, less any monies earned from other employment during the period.

Schenectady Wins 1954 Little League World Championship

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., Aug. 27 (AP)—Billy Masucci, a 12-year-old righthander, pitched himself in and out of jams with a blazing fast ball today as Schenectady, N. Y., hammered out a 7-5 victory over Colton, Calif., to win the 1954 Little League world championship.

The win, 10th in tournament competition for the New Yorkers, completed a comeback duplicated only once before in Little League World Series play.

Last year the Schenectady All-Stars were defeated in the final by Birmingham, Ala.

Masucci, son of Schenectady Little League Coach Louis Masucci, was in trouble much of the way in walking eight Colton batters. But his fast ball accounted for nine strikeouts—most of them in the clutch.

In addition, the Schenectady pitcher hit his team's only home run with one on in the first inning to give the New Yorkers a 2-0 lead. They never fell behind through the rest of the regulation six-inning contest.

Ashburn Plays 701st Consecutive Contest

CHICAGO, Aug. 27 (AP) — Richie Ashburn, Philadelphia Phillies centerfield, played his 701st consecutive National League game today. Ashburn's streak started June 7, 1950, and is 122 games away from the National League record of 822 established by Gus Suhr of Pittsburgh between 1931 and 1937. The late Lou Gehrig holds the major league record of 2,130 games with the New York Yankees.

Preparations are under way for a community welcome to the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company, it was revealed yesterday by Anthony Saeli, manager of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce.

A program of events is being prepared by a committee headed by Joseph M. Naughton, former president of the Chamber and chairman-elect of its industrial promotion committee.

It was in Naughton's administration that the industrial promotion fund drive was begun and the Chamber's industrial promotion efforts were set in motion. These efforts were continued by his successor, Edmund S. Burke, and under the committee chairmanship of Edgar D. Vandegrift, led to the formation of the Industrial Promotion Department of the Chamber of Commerce. The department was organized in November 1952 with the appointment of Albert H. Hargreaves as director.

Schedule Not Complete

The Chamber office reported that the schedule of events for the plant is not complete, but that a major event will be a general membership dinner meeting on Thursday, September 16, at Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club. Top executives of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company and local, county, state and federal officials are being invited to attend.

The Chamber office also released a list of Chamber officials and local leaders designated to serve as a committee to extend the community's welcome to the new plant. Named to the committee were:

Three Youths Tried

Three teenage youths from the Frostburg area were given suspended sentences to the Maryland Training School for Boys at hearings Thursday in Juvenile Court before Magistrate Alban C. Thompson on larceny charges.

The charges, preferred by Cpl. William F. Baker, criminal investigator for the State Police, resulted from the breaking and entering of a Clarysville home.

$162,000 Is Being Sought In Three Damage Suits

Three damage suits in which a total of $162,000 is being sought were filed in Circuit Court yesterday.

The largest case is one docketed by Thomas N. Berry for his client, Ross G. Keller Sr., 135 North Mechanic Street, against Baer Brothers Company of Hagerstown, wholesale distributors of food products. Keller is asking $100,000 for injuries he received when his car was struck by a truck owned by the company on U. S. Route 40 in LaVale about 10 a. m. on February 25 of this year.

The declaration states that the Baer Brothers truck was being operated in a careless and negligent manner causing the crash and injuries to Keller. The injuries listed in the declaration were to the head, neck and back.

Keller said that the injuries are permanent and since the accident he has been unable to continue his employment with the B&O Railroad Company.

Edward L. Belfoure, this city, filed suit for $50,000 damages from Donald L. Dicken and Leon Knotts for injuries suffered in a crash on South Centre Street about 4:30 p. m. on November 16, 1953.

The declaration, docketed by Thomas N. Berry, attorney for Belfoure, states that the plaintiff was parked in a line of traffic near the intersection of South Centre and Pershing Streets when a car driven by Dicken and owned by Knotts crashed into the Belfoure machine.

The declaration states that Belfoure suffered a concussion of the brain and back and neck injuries. It was also stated that he was a patient in Sacred Heart Hospital for three days and incurred heavy medical and hospital expenses. He was unable to engage in his employment for about four months due to the nature of his injuries, it was added.

The third suit was brought by John R. Nichols, of Columbus, Ohio, against Charles E. Lattimer, this city. He is asking damages of $12,000 as a result of injuries suffered August 3, 1953 on Route 73 near Fort Ashby.

The declaration, filed by William L. Wilson, attorney for Nichols, states that Lattimer was operating a car in a careless and negligent manner to cause it to crash into the Nichols machine.

It was also stated that due to the nature of his injuries, Nichols could not continue research work he was doing and engage in his duties as an instructor at Ohio State University.

Friends Aware Plan Rummage Sale Today

A rummage sale of new and used clothing will be held today from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. at Canada Hose House on North Mechanic Street by Friends Aware of Handicapped Children.

Proceeds will be used for the school fund of the group.

Big Market Keeps Peach Prices Down

The tri-state area this week is "snowed under" with peaches as most orchards are reporting a surplus of the grades under U. S. No. 1.

The situation developed this week when peaches ripened in two or three days, causing the market to be flooded.

Peaches rank among the most perishable items of produce. One grower explained that for shipping purposes they must be firm and not overly ripe.

One cooperative in the Hampshire County Fruit Belt, the Mountain Fruit Sales Inc., at Romney reported the demand for U. S. No. 1 peaches two inches and up has been very strong this week.

Prices, however, on this top quality peach are ranging from $2 to $2.25 a bushel FOB.

All other qualities are going for giveaway prices, according to R. L. Sumner, manager of Mountain Fruit Sales. For the No. 2's and others including the ones that were hail marked during many storms are bringing from 50 cents to one dollar a bushel.

In the Cumberland area, produce firms are disposing of peaches for as low as 49 cents a bushel with the customer bringing his own container.

The apple season will come in between September 5 and 10 and orchardists are looking forward to it.

This summer has been ideal for the growing of apples of large size and good quality.

There has been ample rain, hot days and a lot of sunshine and cool weather.

The Jonathans, Grimes Goldens and Delicious varieties will start on their way to the markets.

Preparations are under way for a community welcome to the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company, it was revealed yesterday by Anthony Saeli, manager of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce.

A program of events is being prepared by a committee headed by Joseph M. Naughton, former president of the Chamber and chairman-elect of its industrial promotion committee.

It was in Naughton's administration that the industrial promotion fund drive was begun and the Chamber's industrial promotion efforts were set in motion. These efforts were continued by his successor, Edmund S. Burke, and under the committee chairmanship of Edgar D. Vandegrift, led to the formation of the Industrial Promotion Department of the Chamber of Commerce. The department was organized in November 1952 with the appointment of Albert H. Hargreaves as director.

Schedule Not Complete

The Chamber office reported that the schedule of events for the plant is not complete, but that a major event will be a general membership dinner meeting on Thursday, September 16, at Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club. Top executives of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company and local, county, state and federal officials are being invited to attend.

The Chamber office also released a list of Chamber officials and local leaders designated to serve as a committee to extend the community's welcome to the new plant. Named to the committee were:

Vandegrift, retiring chairman, industrial promotion committee; William C. Walsh, chairman of the industrial promotion fund drive; William H. Buchholtz, Lynn C. Lashley, John J. McMullen, Simon Rosenbaum II, trustees of the industrial promotion fund; Robert Little Ebert, chairman of the Mercantile Bureau; C. Three Youths Tried

Three teenage youths from the Frostburg area were given suspended sentences to the Maryland Training School for Boys at hearings Thursday in Juvenile Court before Magistrate Alban C. Thompson on larceny charges.

The charges, preferred by Cpl. William F. Baker, criminal investigator for the State Police, resulted from the breaking and entering of a Clarysville home.

$162,000 Is Being Sought In Three Damage Suits

Three damage suits in which a total of $162,000 is being sought were filed in Circuit Court yesterday.

The largest case is one docketed by Thomas N. Berry for his client, Ross G. Keller Sr., 135 North Mechanic Street, against Baer Brothers Company of Hagerstown, wholesale distributors of food products. Keller is asking $100,000 for injuries he received when his car was struck by a truck owned by the company on U. S. Route 40 in LaVale about 10 a. m. on February 25 of this year.

The declaration states that the Baer Brothers truck was being operated in a careless and negligent manner causing the crash and injuries to Keller. The injuries listed in the declaration were to the head, neck and back.

Keller said that the injuries are permanent and since the accident he has been unable to continue his employment with the B&O Railroad Company.

Edward L. Belfoure, this city, filed suit for $50,000 damages from Donald L. Dicken and Leon Knotts for injuries suffered in a crash on South Centre Street about 4:30 p. m. on November 16, 1953.

The declaration, docketed by Thomas N. Berry, attorney for Belfoure, states that the plaintiff was parked in a line of traffic near the intersection of South Centre and Pershing Streets when a car driven by Dicken and owned by Knotts crashed into the Belfoure machine.

The declaration states that Belfoure suffered a concussion of the brain and back and neck injuries. It was also stated that he was a patient in Sacred Heart Hospital for three days and incurred heavy medical and hospital expenses. He was unable to engage in his employment for about four months due to the nature of his injuries, it was added.

The third suit was brought by John R. Nichols, of Columbus, Ohio, against Charles E. Lattimer, this city. He is asking damages of $12,000 as a result of injuries suffered August 3, 1953 on Route 23 near Fort Ashby.

The declaration, filed by William L. Wilson, attorney for Nichols, states that Lattimer was operating a car in a careless and negligent manner to cause it to crash into the Nichols machine.

It was also stated that due to the nature of his injuries, Nichols could not continue research work he was doing and engage in his duties as an instructor at Ohio State University.

Friends Aware Plan Rummage Sale Today

Proceeds will be used for the school fund of the group.

Big Market Keeps Peach Prices Down

The tri-state area this week is "snowed under" with peaches as most orchards are reporting a surplus of the grades under U. S. No. 1.

The situation developed this week when peaches ripened in two or three days, causing the market to be flooded.

Peaches rank among the most perishable items of produce. One grower explained that for shipping purposes they must be firm and not overly ripe.

One cooperative in the Hampshire County Fruit Belt, the Mountain Fruit Sales Inc., at Romney reported the demand for U. S. No. 1 peaches two inches and up has been very strong this week.

Prices, however, on this top quality peach are ranging from $2 to $2.25 a bushel FOB.

All other qualities are going for giveaway prices, according to R. L. Sumner, manager of Mountain Fruit Sales. For the No. 2's and others including the ones that were hail marked during many storms are bringing from 50 cents to one dollar a bushel.

In the Cumberland area, produce firms are disposing of peaches for as low as 49 cents a bushel with the customer bringing his own container.

The apple season will come in between September 5 and 10 and orchardists are looking forward to it.

This summer has been ideal for the growing of apples of large size and good quality.

There has been ample rain, hot days and a lot of sunshine and cool weather.

The Jonathans, Grimes Goldens and Delicious varieties will start on their way to the markets.

WHICH HAS LEAST RISK?

SO MANY points are at stake in a slam contract that it generally is wise to select for the final declaration the one which entails the least risk. Sometimes the choice is between two suits, sometimes between a suit and No Trumps, sometimes between several suits and No Trumps. The beauty of a No Trump declaration is that if a particular suit fails to break favorably, maybe another will, to produce enough total tricks. Still another hazard, however, is the question of what lead will be induced by the contract selected.

North:
♠ 10 3 2
♥ A K Q 5 4
♦ 5 2
♣ A Q 6

West:
♠ Q 9 6
♥ J 10 9 6
♦ K 7 4 3
♣ 7 3

East:
♠ J 8 7 4
♥ 2
♦ Q J 10 9 6
♣ J 10 9

South:
♠ A K 5
♥ 8 7 3
♦ A 8
♣ K 8 5 4 2

(Dealer: North. Neither side vulnerable.)

North	East	South	West
1 ♥	Pass	2 ♣	Pass
3 ♥	Pass	4 NT	Pass
5 ♥	Pass	6 NT

If South had chosen 6-Hearts as the contract because of what he considered greater safety of a trump suit, North would have been set a trick. East would have led the unbid diamonds, removing the A at once. When West later cashed a certain trick in hearts, he could have followed with a diamond trick.

South, however, felt that, with North's strong hand, indicated by the jump rebid of hearts, he would have two strings to his bow if he put the slam in No Trumps. Then, in case the hearts didn't split favorably, maybe the clubs would. It turned out that he was right in that surmise. But that was not what enabled him to succeed. The deciding factor was that the diamond honors were so distributed that West had the guarded king and did not like to jeopardize it by leading the suit. You can hardly blame him, as it could well have been that such a lead would have proved fatal for the defenders.

If the bidding had been a bit different, with North getting into the No Trump slam, he could not have made it, since East would have led a diamond. In other words, this deal did not depend on what was the contract, but on who was the leader.

• • •

Your Week-end Question

If you are unable to play so as to get an exact count on the defenders' hands, what is the main factor in determining how to play so as to capture the outstanding queen of your trump suit?

Stock Market Goes Ahead In Moderate, Quiet Session

NEW YORK, Aug. 27 (AP)—In the quietest session in more than two months, the stock market advanced today in a moderate manner.

The rise was not vigorous by any means, but it did snap off a four-day decline.

Gains were frequent in major divisions and some went to between 1 and 3 points. Losses weren't impressive.

Montgomery Ward was a feature. It lost 1⅛ yesterday, and after the close Louis E. Wolfson, Florida industrialist, confirmed the long rumored reports that he intended to get control of the company in a proxy fight.

The stock opened on 7,500 shares up 2⅛ at 78 but it traded most of the day at 77 and closed at 76⅝ up ¾.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up 40 cents at $132.20. There were only 1,740,000 shares traded, lowest since June 18.

Goodyear, which reached agreement with the CIO Rubber Workers Union ending a seven-week strike, gained ¾ at 71½.

American Motors lost ½ at 10½ after directors took no dividend action at this time.

Among stocks showing good gains were U. S. Steel, Crucible Steel, Chrysler, U. S. Rubber, Douglas Aircraft, Distiller Corp., Radio Corp., Consolidated Natural Gas, International Nickel, DuPont, General Bronze, Foster Wheeler, Libby, McNeill & Libby, Seaboard Railroad, Barber Oil, and Clopay Corp.

Lower were such issues as Mack Trucks, American Telephone, General Electric, Virginia - Carolina Chemical, Santa Fe Railroad, Chesapeake & Ohio, Republic Steel, Curtiss-Wright and General Dynamics.

WHICH HAS LEAST RISK?

SO MANY points are at stake in a slam contract that it generally is wise to select for the final declaration the one which entails the least risk. Sometimes the choice is between two suits, sometimes between a suit and No Trumps, sometimes between several suits and No Trumps. The beauty of a No Trump declaration is that if a particular suit fails to break favorably, maybe another will, to produce enough total tricks. Still another hazard, however, is the question of what lead will be induced by the contract selected.

	♠ 10 3 2 ♥ A K Q 5 4 ♦ 5 2 ♣ A Q 6
♠ Q 9 6 ♥ J 10 9 6 ♦ K 7 4 3 ♣ 7 3	N W E S	♠ J 8 7 4 ♥ 2 ♦ Q J 10 9 6 ♣ J 10 9
	♠ A K 5 ♥ 8 7 3 ♦ A 8 ♣ K 8 5 4 2

(Dealer: North. Neither side vulnerable.)

North	East	South	West
1 ♥	Pass	2 ♣	Pass
3 ♥	Pass	4 NT	Pass
5 ♥	Pass	6 NT

If South had chosen 6-Hearts as the contract because of what he considered greater safety of a trump suit, North would have been set a trick. East would have led the unbid diamonds, removing the A at once. When West later cashed a certain trick in hearts, he could have followed with a diamond trick.

South, however, felt that, with North's strong hand, indicated by the jump rebid of hearts, he would have two strings to his bow if he put the slam in No Trumps. Then, in case the hearts didn't split favorably, maybe the clubs would. It turned out that he was right in that surmise. But that was not what enabled him to succeed. The deciding factor was that the diamond honors were so distributed that West had the guarded king and did not like to jeopardize it by leading the suit. You can hardly blame him, as it could well have been that such a lead would have proved fatal for the defenders.

If the bidding had been a bit different, with North getting into the No Trump slam, he could not have made it, since East would have led a diamond. In other words, this deal did not depend on what was the contract, but on who was the leader.

• • •

Your Week-end Question

If you are unable to play so as to get an exact count on the defenders' hands, what is the main factor in determining how to play so as to capture the outstanding queen of your trump suit?

Stock Market Goes Ahead In Moderate, Quiet Session

NEW YORK, Aug. 27 (AP)—In the quietest session in more than two months, the stock market advanced today in a moderate manner.

The rise was not vigorous by any means, but it did snap off a four-day decline.

Gains were frequent in major divisions and some went to between 1 and 3 points. Losses weren't impressive.

Montgomery Ward was a feature. It lost 1⅛ yesterday, and after the close Louis E. Wolfson, Florida industrialist, confirmed the long rumored reports that he intended to get control of the company in a proxy fight.

The stock opened on 7,500 shares up 2⅛ at 78 but it traded most of the day at 77 and closed at 76⅝ up ¾.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up 40 cents at $132.20. There were only 1,740,000 shares traded, lowest since June 18.

Goodyear, which reached agreement with the CIO Rubber Workers Union ending a seven-week strike, gained ¾ at 71½.

American Motors lost ½ at 10½ after directors took no dividend action at this time.

Among stocks showing good gains were U. S. Steel, Crucible Steel, Chrysler, U. S. Rubber, Douglas Aircraft, Distiller Corp., Radio Corp., Consolidated Natural Gas, International Nickel, DuPont, General Bronze, Foster Wheeler, Libby, McNeill & Libby, Seaboard Railroad, Barber Oil, and Clopay Corp.

Lower were such issues as Mack Trucks, American Telephone, General Electric, Virginia - Carolina Chemical, Santa Fe Railroad, Chesapeake & Ohio, Republic Steel, Curtiss-Wright and General Dynamics.

Wage Sessions To Resume Today At Kelly Plant

Pattern Setting Offer Is Made By Goodyear

Local 26, Rubber Workers Union (CIO), and the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company will resume wage negotiations today as a result of a pattern-setting wage boost offered yesterday by the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company to 23,000 workers in 10 plants throughout the nation.

William G. Rice, president of Local 26, said wage negotiations with Kelly-Springfield will be resumed at 9 a. m. at a meeting at the plant.

Local 26 began negotiations for a general wage increase several months ago. Talks were recessed late in July by mutual agreement, with the understanding that workers at the Cumberland plant will receive the pattern set in industry-wide talks.

Goodyear workers, on strike since July 7, will vote today and tomorrow on the wage offer which provides six cents an hour in eight plants, eight cents at the Gadsden, Ala., plant and 10 cents at Topeka, Kan.

Union officials here said the Goodyear wage increase averaged 6½ cents, with the half cent used to correct wage inequities at Gadsden and Topeka.

Rec Department Is Evaluating Play Program

Results Will Guide 1955 Playground Plan

The City Recreation Department is busy evaluating the 1954 summer playground season which ended last week.

Mrs. Eva Hogan, general playground supervisor, said results will be used in planning the 1955 program.

Activities which proved successful will be retained, she said, and other activities found for those which failed to meet the needs of the children.

Mrs. Hogan reported that the enrollment on all 16 playgrounds reached the 2,529 mark this summer.

The most successful new activity, she reported was the Intra-City Playground Parade, which was enthusiastically received by the children, their parents and the public.

Parade Most Popular

Playground leaders, she said, reported that the preparation of the floats provided an activity which brought parents into the playground program.

The survey has already indicated that the teen-age group definitely wants the more highly organized sports such as basketball and softball.

The group has also indicated considerable interest in dancing, sports and club work.

The 10-12 age group, Mrs. Hogan said, went in heavily for special events, including hat, pet and button shows and for handicrafts.

Youngsters made good use of wading pools, sand boxes and swings.

One of the difficulties found was that of providing transportation for children who wish to participate in intra-city events.

Enjoy Picnic Events

Second most popular event of the year was the Playground Picnic at Constitution Park. Mrs. Hogan said one reason was that games were scheduled simultaneously for different age groups on the "three-ring circus" idea.

A three-hour games party in the park casino for those who did not participate in swimming activities proved popular and provided continuous activities for all children.

Building Gain Shown By City

Cumberland building figures for June and the first six months of the year show increases over similar periods of 1953 in a report issued by the Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond for the Fifth District.

Bank debits, however, were running slightly behind 1953 totals.

It was estimated permit valuations in June amounted to $170,650 compared to $78,815 the same month a year ago. For the first six months this year, valuations showed $394,575 compared to $370,215 at the same time in 1953.

Bank debits in June amounted to $26,781,000 as against $28,349,000 in June of 1953. Debits the first six months this year totaled $137,788,000 compared to $153,303,000 in those months a year ago.

Man Is Detained For Ohio Authorities

The State's Attorney's Office reported yesterday that a man booked as Calvin Elmer Long is being detained in the County Jail for Ohio authorities.

They said a "bad check" warrant has been received from Alliance, Ohio, as a result of an investigation made here.

The man, who gave a Pennsylvania address, was picked up by city police here recently after alleged attempts to pass bad checks here.

Fair Exhibit Money To Be Paid Today

Today the 37th annual Cumberland Fair comes to a close and the hundreds of exhibitors get what they came for — their premium money.

Miss Leona M. Phillips again is in charge of the payment of this premium money. She plans to distribute something like $5,000 today, starting about 10 o'clock this morning. This money covers all of the departments except livestock and poultry and pigeons. She expects to be especially busy for about three hours handing out money to 4-H boys and girls, FFA boys, men and women whose exhibits have been accorded first, second or third place in competition.

County Agent Joseph M. Steger distributed premium money yesterday to the livestock exhibitors before they pulled up stakes and headed for other agricultural expositions. Checks totaling nearly $3,700 went to the livestock owners.

C. A. Smith, superintendent of the poultry and pigeon department, also supervised payment of premium money in his department. About $3,000 was awarded exhibitors there.

Last night another large crowd was on hand to see the variety show in front of the Fairgo grandstand and witness the fireworks display which followed. It was Garrett County Night and Miss Hazel Mosser, the Garrett County Farm Queen, was guest of honor.

Tonight the show and fireworks again will be featured along with nearly all of the other activities at the fair. Then they will all pull up stakes and many will head for other fairs. But they'll be back when another August brings another exposition to Fairgo.

County Election Officials Will Go To School

A school of instructions for election officials will be sponsored throughout the county by the Board of Election Supervisors.

All phases of election procedure will be discussed during the instruction periods, according to William A. Wilson, president of the board.

The sessions will get underway September 7 in Cumberland, and similar meetings will be held at Frostburg, Lonaconing and Westernport. The school is being conducted in preparation for the November 2 election. The time and places where officials will meet will be announced later and they will be notified by mail, Wilson added.

Blood Donors Needed Here And Frostburg

Mobile Unit Visits Area Monday, Tuesday

More volunteer blood donors are needed Monday and Tuesday, in both Cumberland and Frostburg, when the Red Cross bloodmobile unit visits the county.

According to Red Cross officials in both communities, the quota in each place is 150 pints. A large number of individuals have been registered to donate a pint of blood, but additional volunteers, especially those who have not given blood before are needed.

The bloodmobile will be at the Eagles Home on North Mechanic Street here, Monday from noon to 6 p. m. Persons who can give blood are asked to report during that time. Any who have made appointments and cannot keep them, should call the Red Cross at 4181 or 3556 and report their cancellation, so a replacement can be found.

Otherwise, officials explain, it may be difficult to reach the full 150 pint quota here.

On Tuesday, the bloodmobile will set up headquarters at the American Legion Home, Main Street Frostburg, from noon until 6 p. m. In that community, 150 pints are also needed for the day. Here, also, a large number of appointments and registrations have been listed, but those who cannot appear should contact the Red Cross there in time to recruit a replacement. In Frostburg, as in Cumberland, new donors are needed, and Volunteers are requested to walk-in.

The blood donated at these monthly visits of the bloodmobile is taken to the Johnstown laboratory, processed and local hospitals are then supplied with their full live blood and plasma requirements, as needed. Any surplus goes to the Armed Forces and Veterans Hospitals, and for use in the polio prevention campaign.

Mrs. Charles F. Helmrich is blood donor recruitment chairman for the local chapter.

Local Sailor Makes Record Score In Navy

John H. Biggs, son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Biggs, 419 North Centre Street, is home on 14-days leave from Bainbridge where he completed his boot training in the US Navy.

Biggs enlisted here May 28, after making the highest score ever registered on induction mental tests at the local recruiting station. At Bainbridge, where he took additional written and oral examinations, he scored 145 out of a possible 150 points, to tie an all-time score at that station.

Biggs, whose father is foreman of the receiving department at Kelly Springfield Tire Company plant here is a native of Cumberland, born here February 23, 1930. He graduated from Allegany High School in 1948, from Frostburg State Teachers College in 1952 and from West Virginia University in 1954. He has an AB degree and majored in mathematics.

When he returns September 8 to Bainbridge after his present leave, he is to be assigned for special training either in electronics or fire control, and if he completes his Navy schooling satisfactorily, hopes to further his education in the Navy by attending Officers Training School or some other advanced training program.

Local recruiters welcomed him at the recruiting office yesterday when he dropped in for a visit, and complimented him highly on the outstanding record he has made in the service thus far.

JAMES STEVENSON

Native Of Scotland Ends Long Career At Kelly Plant

It's easy chair time now for James Stevenson, 69-year old native of Scotland, who is retiring effective today after 31½ years of employment with the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company.

Stevenson, who will reach his 70th birthday just five days before Christmas, was brought to this country as a four-year old boy in 1888. The Stevensons, parents, three sons and three daughters, settled with many another Scotch family in Lonaconing.

James Stevenson's younger days followed a familiar pattern for George's Creek—coal mining and sandlot baseball. He was the catcher and his brothers played in the infield for a good many years.

In the mines Stevenson worked for some 11 years—from 1912 until 1923. He was employed first by the Reid Coal and Coak Company, Midlothian, and later by Consolidated Coal Company and the Sullivan Brothers Company.

Near the end of his career as a miner Stevenson was elected to the House of Delegates in 1922 and represented Allegany County in Annapolis for one term.

Stevenson began working for the relatively new Kelly-Springfield Tire Company February 23, 1923. His work in all of the ensuing years has been in the calender room, where the tire fabric is coated. He has done just about every job in that department, according to personnel officials of the plant.

Married to the former Miss Kate Barger, Stevenson has two sons, James, a B&O employe living in Willard, Ohio, and William, employed at the Celanese plant, and a daughter, Mrs. George Leith, also of this city. Derl Keller and Mrs. Walter Henry are his stepchildren and he has nine grandchildren.

Although he has retired from work, Stevenson still has a number of interests. He belongs to Ohr Lodge No. 131, A.F. & A. M. and Scottish Rite Lodge. He also is chairman of the Official Board of Grace Methodist Church on Virginia Avenue.

As for the future his plans are still in the development stage. He and Mrs. Stevenson are hoping to take a trip to Florida. In the meantime he'll have a few hours for that easy chair at 207 Grand Avenue.

Will Build Home

George O. Thrush, 606 Shriver Avenue, secured a permit from the City Engineer yesterday to build a one-story brick dwelling at 512 Regina Avenue. The 32 by 28 foot structure is estimated to cost $5,000.

The policy, which is effective August 26 of this year, covers the 46 pieces of equipment owned by 25 of the 31 volunteer fire companies of the association.

Members of the fire department are given protections during various activities including parades, carnivals, drills etc. Some of the companies of the two-county association carry their own insurance.

Homer Ambrose, of McCoole, secretary of the insurance committee of the association, last night said the checks are due from the various participating companies and should be mailed to him in McCoole.

Chairman of the insurance committee is Charles Crawford, of Bowling Green. Other committeemen are George Comp, Deer Park; Palmer Houser, Flintstone, and Francis Fatkins, of Clarysville.

Gas Company Continues To Enlarge Lines

Low Pressure Areas Are Being Improved

Gas users in two residential sections of Cumberland are assured improved cold weather gas service with the completion of two pipeline projects this summer.

Cumberland and Allegheny Gas Company is now replacing more than 2,100 feet of service mains on Oldtown Road. Some 3,000 feet of gas line feeding Locust Grove and Greenpoint will be replaced next month.

Increased Capacity

Each project will eliminate a serious cold-weather pressure condition by increasing the capacity of the line and making possible larger deliveries of gas into that area, explained District Manager C. C. Robbins. Total cost is $31,000.

An eight-inch line is now being laid on Oldtown Road from Virginia Avenue to Wempe Drive. It replaces the present three and four-inch feeder line.

The southwestern part of the city is fed from the Oldtown Road line, Robbins pointed out. Gas is moved into that line from the city's medium-pressure belt system—the band of main lines around the city which feed gas into residential areas.

The gas company last month revealed plans to replace four sections of its belt line. That construction also will be completed this summer.

The Locust Grove and Greenpoint feeder runs from Route 40 near Cash Valley Road, across Braddock Run and along Braddock Run Road to a point near the Western Maryland Railway tracks.

Replaces Small Pipe

Robbins said a four-inch line will be laid to replace the present smaller pipe.

Gas will be moved into that feeder from a 10-inch line which runs north to the company's regulator station near the Pennsylvania-Maryland state line.

"These two districts have been the fastest-growing areas in Cumberland since the end of World War II. As a result, gas demands have increased to the point where the present line has been hard-pressed to meet them. A new, larger feed is necessary to give those areas efficient gas service," the official added.

Robbins said the latest construction is part of the company's $16,000,000 long-range construction program designed to build up its gas supplies and improve its gas delivery system.

Construction in the last five years has enabled the company to replace and enlarge about 60 per cent of the city's belt system, he pointed out.

Ridgeley Legion Picnic Slated For Tomorrow

The annual family picnic of Knobley Mountain Post 136, American Legion of Ridgeley will be held tomorrow from noon until 7 p. m. at Buck's Beach near Fort Ashby.

Transportation will be provided to and from the picnic area, according to Charles Day, chairman, and those desiring a ride to the outing are asked to be at the post home by 11 a. m.

The Ladies Auxiliary unit of the post will be in charge of contest and games for the children and prizes will be awarded to the winners.

Bedford Road Property Sold

Charles E. Smith, former manager of radio station WTBO, and Eunice B. Smith, his wife, have sold their home on Bedford Road, according to a deed filed for record yesterday in the office of Joseph E. Boden, clerk of Allegany County Circuit Court.

The property, two parcels on the "Smouse Brick House Farm," was sold to Edward W. Dove, chief estimator of the George F. Hazelwood Company, and his wife, Dorothy Dove.

Deadline For CD Radios Is September 1

Fire companies of the Allegany-Garrett County Volunteer Firemen's Association, desiring to participate in the radio network planned in conjunction with the Civil Defense program, are reminded that the deadline for requesting radios is September 1.

Applications must be submitted to William G. Barger, county CD director, no later than that date. The General Electric Company, with a low bid of $8,401.60, will supply 20 mobile transmitters and receiver sets which will be installed on the fire-fighting apparatus.

Motorola will supply two fixed-station transmitters and receivers. Their bid was $1,925. At least five of the sets will be installed in city fire-fighting apparatus while the rest will be installed in trucks of the two-county association members.

The radio network will be of value in relaying messages during fires, civil defense alerts and disasters in the event of enemy attack.

Cost of each radio set to the companies will be between $210 and $250. Expense of the entire network is being shared by the Federal CD fund, state, county and fire companies.

Applications for the radio are to be prepared in triplicate and forwarded to Barger at his home RFD 1, Cumberland, or to David E. Kirk, Barton.

The total decrease in July in operating expenses compared with July last year is therefore, $5,639,763.

Long To Suggest City Policy On Contributions

May Limit Spending To Actual Charities

Finance Commissioner John J. Long will make recommendations to the Mayor and Council soon on rules to be set by the city on charitable contributions.

Commissioner Long plans to meet with City Auditor Arthur D. Gibson to review past policy and to study the Theatre Tax Relief Fund.

The subject of city donations to charities and for advertisements in programs sponsored by local organizations was discussed by the Mayor and Council when they set the current budget.

Policy Needed

Long pointed out the city should set a policy on donations.

Police Commissioner Keegan, who held the finance post last year, pointed out the city may be forced to limit its contributions to "actual charities" since the movie fund is now down so low it cannot take care of demands.

Gibson suggested that the study of the fund be made as the first step to setting the pattern for charitable spending.

He recalled that the tax of five cents on Sunday admissions to local theatres was set up about 20 years ago to finance direct charities made through the Community Chest, but had gradually been extended to other charitable organizations.

Dipped Into Reserves

But last year, the city dipped into Movie Tax reserves and still was unable to make its usual contributions.

Sunday movie taxes, Gibson reported, brought in $5,769.39 during the 1953-54 fiscal year. Expenditures included $9,500 to the Cumberland Community Chest, for the 1952-53 and part of the 1953-54 pledges, plus $100 to the Allegany-Garrett Tuberculosis Society, $60 to the Jewish Welfare fund, $300 to the Red Cross, $100 to the Elks Crippled Children's fund, and $181.45 for upkeep of the Girls Scout Home.

This left a balance of $795.38 on July 1, leaving unpaid $4,000 of the Chest pledge, and no payments to date on a 1953 Salvation Army request for $750.

In addition to funds requested for actual charities, the city gets dozens of requests each year for direct contributions toward special events or for advertisements in programs published in connections with civic or fraternal activities.

Thomas B. Finan, city attorney, said this week he thought it advisable that city contributions be restricted to "nothing but charity", and that other organizations take on the task of advertising the city.

Since no special allowance is made in the budget, all special donations must be taken from the contingent fund.

Wage Sessions To Resume Today At Kelly Plant

Pattern Setting Offer Is Made By Goodyear

Local 26, Rubber Workers Union (CIO), and the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company will resume wage negotiations today as a result of a pattern-setting wage boost offered yesterday by the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company to 23,000 workers in 10 plants throughout the nation.

William G. Rice, president of Local 26, said wage negotiations with Kelly-Springfield will be resumed at 9 a. m. at a meeting at the plant.

Local 26 began negotiations for a general wage increase several months ago. Talks were recessed late in July by mutual agreement, with the understanding that workers at the Cumberland plant will receive the pattern set in industry-wide talks.

Goodyear workers, on strike since July 7, will vote today and tomorrow on the wage offer which provides six cents an hour in eight plants, eight cents at the Gadsden, Ala., plant and 10 cents at Topeka, Kan.

Union officials here said the Goodyear wage increase averaged 6½ cents, with the half cent used to correct wage inequities at Gadsden and Topeka.

Rec Department Is Evaluating Play Program

Results Will Guide 1955 Playground Plan

The City Recreation Department is busy evaluating the 1954 summer playground season which ended last week.

Mrs. Eva Hogan, general playground supervisor, said results will be used in planning the 1955 program.

Activities which proved successful will be retained, she said, and other activities found for those which failed to meet the needs of the children.

Mrs. Hogan reported that the enrollment on all 16 playgrounds reached the 2,529 mark this summer.

The most successful new activity, she reported was the Intra-City Playground Parade, which was enthusiastically received by the children, their parents and the public.

Parade Most Popular

Playground leaders, she said, reported that the preparation of the floats provided an activity which brought parents into the playground program.

The survey has already indicated that the teen-age group definitely wants the more highly organized sports such as basketball and softball.

The group has also indicated considerable interest in dancing, sports and club work.

The 10-12 age group, Mrs. Hogan said, went in heavily for special events, including hat, pet and button shows and for handicrafts.

Youngsters made good use of wading pools, sand boxes and swings.

One of the difficulties found was that of providing transportation for children who wish to participate in intra-city events.

Enjoy Picnic Events

Second most popular event of the year was the Playground Picnic at Constitution Park. Mrs. Hogan said one reason was that games were scheduled simultaneously for different age groups on the "three-ring circus" idea.

A three-hour games party in the park casino for those who did not participate in swimming activities proved popular and provided continuous activities for all children.

Building Gain Shown By City

Cumberland building figures for June and the first six months of the year show increases over similar periods of 1953 in a report issued by the Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond for the Fifth District.

Bank debits, however, were running slightly behind 1953 totals.

It was estimated permit valuations in June amounted to $170,650 compared to $78,815 the same month a year ago. For the first six months this year, valuations showed $394,575 compared to $370,215 at the same time in 1953.

Bank debits in June amounted to $26,781,000 as against $28,349,000 in June of 1953. Debits the first six months this year totaled $137,788,000 compared to $153,303,000 in those months a year ago.

Fair Exhibit Money To Be Paid Today

Today the 37th annual Cumberland Fair comes to a close and the hundreds of exhibitors get what they came for — their premium money.

Miss Leona M. Phillips again is in charge of the payment of this premium money. She plans to distribute something like $5,000 today, starting about 10 o'clock this morning. This money covers all of the departments except livestock and poultry and pigeons. She expects to be especially busy for about three hours handing out money to 4-H boys and girls, FFA boys, men and women whose exhibits have been accorded first, second or third place in competition.

County Agent Joseph M. Steger distributed premium money yesterday to the livestock exhibitors before they pulled up stakes and headed for other agricultural expositions. Checks totaling nearly $3,700 went to the livestock owners.

C. A. Smith, superintendent of the poultry and pigeon department, also supervised payment of premium money in his department. About $3,000 was awarded exhibitors there.

Last night another large crowd was on hand to see the variety show in front of the Fairgo grandstand and witness the fireworks display which followed. It was Garrett County Night and Miss Hazel Mosser, the Garrett County Farm Queen, was guest of honor.

Tonight the show and fireworks again will be featured along with nearly all of the other activities at the fair. Then they will all pull up stakes and many will head for other fairs. But they'll be back when another August brings another exposition to Fairgo.

Blood Donors Needed Here And Frostburg

Mobile Unit Visits Area Monday, Tuesday

More volunteer blood donors are needed Monday and Tuesday, in both Cumberland and Frostburg, when the Red Cross bloodmobile unit visits the county.

According to Red Cross officials in both communities, the quota in each place is 150 pints. A large number of individuals have been registered to donate a pint of blood, but additional volunteers, especially those who have not given blood before are needed.

The bloodmobile will be at the Eagles Home on North Mechanic Street here, Monday from noon to 6 p. m. Persons who can give blood are asked to report during that time. Any who have made appointments and cannot keep them, should call the Red Cross at 4181 or 3556 and report their cancellation, so a replacement can be found.

Otherwise, officials explain, it may be difficult to reach the full 150 pint quota here.

On Tuesday, the bloodmobile will set up headquarters at the American Legion Home, Main Street Frostburg, from noon until 6 p. m. In that community, 150 pints are also needed for the day. Here, also, a large number of appointments and registrations have been listed, but those who cannot appear should contact the Red Cross there in time to recruit a replacement. In Frostburg, as in Cumberland, new donors are needed, and Volunteers are requested to walk-in.

The blood donated at these monthly visits of the bloodmobile is taken to the Johnstown laboratory, processed and local hospitals are then supplied with their full live blood and plasma requirements, as needed. Any surplus goes to the Armed Forces and Veterans Hospitals, and for use in the polio prevention campaign.

Mrs. Charles F. Helmrich is blood donor recruitment chairman for the local chapter.

JAMES STEVENSON

Native Of Scotland Ends Long Career At Kelly Plant

It's easy chair time now for James Stevenson, 69-year old native of Scotland, who is retiring effective today after 31½ years of employment with the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company.

Stevenson, who will reach his 70th birthday just five days before Christmas, was brought to this country as a four-year old boy in 1888. The Stevensons, parents, three sons and three daughters, settled with many another Scotch family in Lonaconing.

James Stevenson's younger days followed a familiar pattern for George's Creek—coal mining and sandlot baseball. He was the catcher and his brothers played in the infield for a good many years.

In the mines Stevenson worked for some 11 years—from 1912 until 1923. He was employed first by the Reid Coal and Coak Company, Midlothian, and later by Consolidated Coal Company and the Sullivan Brothers Company.

Near the end of his career as a miner Stevenson was elected to the House of Delegates in 1922 and represented Allegany County in Annapolis for one term.

Stevenson began working for the relatively new Kelly-Springfield Tire Company February 23, 1923. His work in all of the ensuing years has been in the calender room, where the tire fabric is coated. He has done just about every job in that department, according to personnel officials of the plant.

Married to the former Miss Kate Barger, Stevenson has two sons, James, a B&O employe living in Willard, Ohio, and William, employed at the Celanese plant, and a daughter, Mrs. George Leith, also of this city. Derl Keller and Mrs. Walter Henry are his stepchildren and he has nine grandchildren.

Although he has retired from work, Stevenson still has a number of interests. He belongs to Ohr Lodge No. 131, A.F. & A. M. and Scottish Rite Lodge. He also is chairman of the Official Board of Grace Methodist Church on Virginia Avenue.

As for the future his plans are still in the development stage. He and Mrs. Stevenson are hoping to take a trip to Florida. In the meantime he'll have a few hours for that easy chair at 207 Grand Avenue.

Will Build Home

George O. Thrush, 606 Shriver Avenue, secured a permit from the City Engineer yesterday to build a one-story brick dwelling at 512 Regina Avenue. The 32 by 28 foot structure is estimated to cost $5,000.

Gas Company Continues To Enlarge Lines

Low Pressure Areas Are Being Improved

Gas users in two residential sections of Cumberland are assured improved cold weather gas service with the completion of two pipeline projects this summer.

Cumberland and Allegheny Gas Company is now replacing more than 2,100 feet of service mains on Oldtown Road. Some 3,000 feet of gas line feeding Locust Grove and Greenpoint will be replaced next month.

Increased Capacity

Each project will eliminate a serious cold-weather pressure condition by increasing the capacity of the line and making possible larger deliveries of gas into that area, explained District Manager C. C. Robbins. Total cost is $31,000.

An eight-inch line is now being laid on Oldtown Road from Virginia Avenue to Wempe Drive. It replaces the present three and four-inch feeder line.

The southwestern part of the city is fed from the Oldtown Road line, Robbins pointed out. Gas is moved into that line from the city's medium-pressure belt system—the band of main lines around the city which feed gas into residential areas.

The gas company last month revealed plans to replace four sections of its belt line. That construction also will be completed this summer.

The Locust Grove and Greenpoint feeder runs from Route 40 near Cash Valley Road, across Braddock Run and along Braddock Run Road to a point near the Western Maryland Railway tracks.

Replaces Small Pipe

Robbins said a four-inch line will be laid to replace the present smaller pipe.

Gas will be moved into that feeder from a 10-inch line which runs north to the company's regulator station near the Pennsylvania-Maryland state line.

"These two districts have been the fastest-growing areas in Cumberland since the end of World War II. As a result, gas demands have increased to the point where the present line has been hard-pressed to meet them. A new, larger feed is necessary to give those areas efficient gas service," the official added.

Robbins said the latest construction is part of the company's $16,000,000 long-range construction program designed to build up its gas supplies and improve its gas delivery system.

Construction in the last five years has enabled the company to replace and enlarge about 60 per cent of the city's belt system, he pointed out.

Deadline For CD Radios Is September 1

Fire companies of the Allegany-Garrett County Volunteer Firemen's Association, desiring to participate in the radio network planned in conjunction with the Civil Defense program, are reminded that the deadline for requesting radios is September 1.

Applications must be submitted to William G. Barger, county CD director, no later than that date. The General Electric Company, with a low bid of $8,401.60, will supply 20 mobile transmitters and receiver sets which will be installed on the fire-fighting apparatus.

Motorola will supply two fixed-station transmitters and receivers. Their bid was $1,925. At least five of the sets will be installed in city fire-fighting apparatus while the rest will be installed in trucks of the two-county association members.

The radio network will be of value in relaying messages during fires, civil defense alerts and disasters in the event of enemy attack.

Cost of each radio set to the companies will be between $210 and $250. Expense of the entire network is being shared by the Federal CD fund, state, county and fire companies.

Applications for the radio are to be prepared in triplicate and forwarded to Barger at his home RFD 1, Cumberland, or to David E. Kirk, Barton.

Long To Suggest City Policy On Contributions

May Limit Spending To Actual Charities

Finance Commissioner John J. Long will make recommendations to the Mayor and Council soon on rules to be set by the city on charitable contributions.

Commissioner Long plans to meet with City Auditor Arthur P. Gibson to review past policy and to study the Theatre Tax Relief Fund.

The subject of city donations to charities and for advertisements in programs sponsored by local organizations was discussed by the Mayor and Council when they set the current budget.

Policy Needed

Long pointed out the city should set a policy on donations.

Police Commissioner Keegan, who held the finance post last year, pointed out the city may be forced to limit its contributions to "actual charities" since the movie fund is now down so low it cannot take care of demands.

Gibson suggested that the study of the fund be made as the first step to setting the pattern for charitable spending.

He recalled that the tax of five cents on Sunday admissions to local theatres was set up about 20 years ago to finance direct charities made through the Community Chest, but had gradually been extended to other charitable organizations.

Dipped Into Reserves

But last year, the city dipped into Movie Tax reserves and still was unable to make its usual contributions.

Sunday movie taxes, Gibson reported, brought in $5,769.39 during the 1953-54 fiscal year. Expenditures included $9,500 to the Cumberland Community Chest, for the 1952-53 and part of the 1953-54 pledges, plus $100 to the Allegany-Garrett Tuberculosis Society, $60 to the Jewish Welfare fund, $300 to the Red Cross, $100 to the Elks Crippled Children's fund, and $181.45 for upkeep of the Girls Scout Home.

This left a balance of $795.38 on July 1, leaving unpaid $4,000 of the Chest pledge, and no payments to date on a 1953 Salvation Army request for $750.

In addition to funds requested for actual charities, the city gets dozens of requests each year for direct contributions toward special events or for advertisements in programs published in connections with civic or fraternal activities.

Thomas B. Finan, city attorney, said this week he thought it advisable that city contributions be restricted to "nothing but charity", and that other organizations take on the task of advertising the city.

Since no special allowance is made in the budget, all special donations must be taken from the contingent fund.

Post Playground Plans Fun Fair

Crab Capital Queen Is Named

CRISFIELD, Md., Aug. 27 (AP) — The world's crab capital tonight designated 17-year-old Gayle Loreman as queen of its unique 7th Annual Hard Crab Derby.

The brownette daughter of H. L. Loreman Jr., of Salisbury and Mrs. Donald Clouser of Crisfield, was picked from among 15 other Crisfield girls to reign over the event.

About 700 persons filled the Crisfield High School auditorium, stood on staircases and in the aisles three-deep to see the pretty miss crowned by last year's queen, Marilyn Storus.

She wore a black, strapless bathing suit and displayed measurements of 34-24-36 on a trim 125-pound frame.

Runner-up was Deana Crockett, a blue-eyed blonde.

Judges were Helen Perry, society editor of the Salisbury Times, Delegate E. Homer White Jr., of Salisbury, and John Hess and Mrs. Roxie Baker, also of Salisbury.
